Senate Sends Bill Against Poverty to Chief Executive

Accepts House Amendments To Speed Plan to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today sent to President Johnson the $947.5 million anti-poverty bill designed to give work to idle youth and to help low-income families get off relief.

Completing congressional action, the Senate accepted House amendments to the original Senate version even though some were disliked by sponsors of the bill. The Senate action was by voice vote.

Enactment of the bill was a major victory for Johnson who had given the legislation highest priority in the closing days of the session. It was opposed by Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

The money figures in the bill are authorizations. Congress must vote appropriations in a supplemental bill if the program is to get started this fall.

Sargent Shriver, who is expected to be named to administer the program, has estimated it should reach 600,000 persons directly in the first year and up to 7 million families through community action projects.

Before passing the bill Saturday, the House put into it what some senators called a disturbing loyalty oath and governors' to provisions over some projects.

But Senate sponsors decided against making any fight over these points.

Nathan Heffernan, Sheboygan, Was His School Mate

Nathan S. Heffernan

Nathan S. Heffernan of Sheboygan, an old friend, school-mate, and intimate political associate.

Ending two weeks of speculation in political quarters and obviously serious deliberation about the qualifications of the numerous candidates including other close friends who made themselves available, the governor made his announcement through his office this morning while he was in Washington consulting with members of Congress on state affairs.

Heffernan is now the U. S. attorney for the Western Federal Court district of Wisconsin. He served four years as Reynolds' chief deputy in the office of state attorney general when Reynolds held that office from 1959 to 1963.

Before that Heffernan had been Sheboygan's city attorney. His acquaintance with the governor goes back to their days as University of Wisconsin students.

Dispute Continues Over Troop Disposition Along Cyprus Northwest Coast

BY HAL MCCLURE Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — A northwest coast break of fighting along Cyprus' Scouting Flights

Cyprus about Greek Cypriot Turkey said it would send its troop dispositions on the north-jets on scouting missions until west coast today menaced the the U.N. troops can enforce the peace restored shakily under truce and Greek Cypriots withdrew from positions they captured in the last six days.

Turkish jets maintained reconnaissance flights.

Premier Ismet Inonu's Ankara administration was reported to have continued military preparations to back up its demand that Greek Cypriot forces give up three Turkish Cypriot villages they have occupied since last Wednesday, and withdraw from their encirclement of the port of Kokkina.

Won't Withdraw Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou declared the Greek Cypriot forces will never withdraw in the Kokkina area.

"Greek Cypriots are ready to die to the last man or win," Kyprianou told newsmen before flying to Athens for consultation with Greek government about the latest crisis.

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant has said Turkey accepted unconditionally the appeal for a cease-fire, but Western diplomats in Ankara said it is insisting strongly that the coastal area be cleared of Greek Cypriot troops before the truce can be fully accepted.

Possible Compromise These sources said the only compromise Turkey might be persuaded to accept would be for the captured villages to be turned over to U.N. troops instead of reoccupied by Turkish Cypriot forces. Unarmed Turks and refugees massed around Kokkina could then return to their homes under U.N. protection.

Cyprus remained jittery. U.N. headquarters said Turkish planes flew over an area south of the village of Aleva, near the scene of recent fighting, for 25 minutes this morning but did not open fire.

Only a few isolated gunshots were heard during the night as both Greek and Turkish Cypriots observed the truce, the U.N. said.

At the order of Secretary-General U Thant, the U.N. police force mobilized its limited manpower to prevent another outbreak.

Chinese Fly Jets To North Viet Nam

Pentagon Confirms MIGs Sent to Communist Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today a number of Chinese Communist jet fighters have been sent into North Vietnamese bases.

Arthur Sylvester, defense press chief, recalled that last week Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had said he expected the Red Chinese to introduce planes into North Viet Nam.

"We now have indications," Sylvester said, "that a number of Chinese Communist MIG15s and MIG17s have been introduced into North Viet Nam."

Action Expected "This has been expected for some time because of known preparations such as lengthening of runways of airfields in the Hanoi area."

Sylvester was asked if Chinese Communists were flying the planes.

He replied that the pilots could be North Vietnamese, trained in China, or "they could very well be Chinese."

Sylvester said he did not know whether these Red Chinese planes are intended for air defense or other action.

Woman Dies In Crash of Trailer, Bus

WILLOW HILL, Pa. (AP) — A bus and a tractor-trailer collided on the fog-shrouded Pennsylvania Turnpike today killing at least one person and seriously injuring several others.

Helen West, in her late 40s, of Oroville, Calif., one of two persons taken to Carlisle Hospital, was dead on arrival. The other was identified as Katherine Bonanno, 48, Whittier, Calif. She was taken to the X-ray department.

Coroner Edward Haegele said Miss West died of multiple injuries.

Carlisle is about 30 miles east of the scene of the accident.

Several persons reported seriously injured were admitted to Fulton County Medical Center in McCallsburg. A hospital spokesman refused all inquiries of a newsman.

"We only know that more injured are coming in," the spokesman said.

A state police spokesman said he could not identify the type of bus involved in the accident.

U. S. Won't Pay To Free Official Kidnaped by Reds

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. government has decided against offering money for the return of an American Aid Mission official kidnaped by the Communist guerrillas.

A spokesman said Monday an offer of a reward "would involve setting a dangerous precedent."

Missing is Joseph W. Granger of Sumter, S.C., who was captured Saturday with his Filipino technical assistant and a Vietnamese plantation manager in a coastal valley 240 miles north-east of Saigon.

Granger is the first U.S. civilian official to be captured by the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Youth Dies In Crash on Way to Camp

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The mounting toll of deaths on Wisconsin highways this year reached 632, today, compared with 505 on this day in 1963.

Pfc. Russell Gunsalus, 21, of Lake George, Minn., was killed early today when a car carrying him and two other Minnesota reservists en route to Camp McCoy for summer training went out of control on Highway 21 three miles northeast of Sparta and struck a tree.

In critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital in Sparta were 1st Lt. Donald Muehlbach of Savage, Minn., and 2nd Lt. Patrick A. Coburn, 27, of Federal Dam, Minn.

Sheriff's officers said they were unable to determine who was driving at the time the accident occurred, about 2:40 a.m.

Joseph G. Guarniere, 49, of Milwaukee was killed Monday night when his car landed in a ditch after leaving highways 57 and 32 in southwestern Manitowish County. Authorities said he was alone in the vehicle.

Red Leaflets Trying to Create Split in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong guerrillas have been ordered to fire only on South Vietnamese units accompanied by Americans, said Red leaflets handed out in hamlets just northwest of Saigon today.

Government officials scoffed at the handbills and said they appeared designed to create dissension between Vietnamese soldiers and their U.S. advisers.

Saigon returned to a measure of normal today after the recent increase in tension because of incidents in the Gulf of Tonkin.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor underscored the relaxation by making courtesy calls on the Vietnamese-American Friendship Association and the USO Club.

While GIs looked on, Taylor chatted with USO Director Betty Ann Murphy about the availability of milk shakes and banana splits at the club.

Capital Tranquil The capital seemed generally unperturbed despite continuation of a night curfew imposed last week and the government's announcement Monday that air raid shelters would soon be built.

The new civil defense measures are partly intended to get the generally indifferent Saigonese more interested in the government's war efforts.

The price of gold — an indicator of public confidence in the government — dropped today after skyrocketing the past week. Hoarders kept gold off the market in anticipation of a further crisis. Rumors also circulated about the possibility of another government coup.

Wagner Sees Kennedy in Senate Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he would not consider running for U.S. senator from New York without Mayor Robert F. Wagner's "express approval."

A few minutes after Kennedy made that statement Monday, Wagner said: "If he is available, he is the type of person who would make an exceptionally fine candidate. I am sure that he would win."

"I have a high regard for him as a friend and as a public servant."

New Conference Asked whether his remarks constituted an endorsement, Wagner said:

"I think I've made a pretty strong statement already."

Wagner said he would not say more until he had talked again with Kennedy. Kennedy visited Wagner last Friday. No further meeting has been announced.

The Democratic nominee will face Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

Kennedy, here Monday to speak at the convention of the American Bar Association, was asked by newsmen about the Senate race.

One of his replies was: "Under no circumstances would I ever have considered, or would I now consider, coming into the State of New York against the wishes of the mayor."

Rabinovitz Fails To Win Support Of Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee refused by a 5-1 vote Monday to recommend confirmation of David Rabinovitz as federal judge in Wisconsin's western district.

Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., was the only member of the subcommittee to favor confirmation of the former Sheboygan labor attorney. Three southern Democrats and two Republicans were opposed.

Rabinovitz has been serving as U.S. District Court judge in Madison since early this year. He was nominated to the post by the late President Kennedy last Sept. 5.

However, the judiciary subcommittee allowed the nomination to die without taking a vote before the Senate adjourned in December. President Johnson then made an interim appointment shortly before the Senate reconvened Jan. 7.

Johnson Hails Congress Support in Reply to Communist Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has signed the congressional resolution supporting his actions in Southeast Asia and says he hopes it is read around the world as it states plainly "where America stands."

"To any armed attack upon our forces," said the President, "we shall reply."

Nation United "To any in Southeast Asia who ask our help in defending their freedom, we shall give it."

With military and congressional leaders grouped around him, Johnson signed the joint resolution Monday with a couple dozen pens in the East Room of the White House.

Noting its quick and almost unanimous passage in both houses of Congress, Johnson remarked, "The unanimity of the Congress reflects the unanimity of the country."

"This resolution," he added, "confirms and reinforces powers of the presidency. I pledge to all Americans to use these powers with all the wisdom and judgment God grants to me."

With passage of the resolution, he said, "our course is clearly known in every land."

"There can be no mistake, no miscalculation, of where America stands or what this generation of Americans stands for."

He said in Southeast Asia there is nothing we covet, nothing we seek. Our one desire, our one determination, is that the people of Southeast Asia be left in peace to work out their own destinies in their own way.

The President repeated his unity theme in a White House luncheon with 200 businessmen. "The last 10 days," he said, "have reminded us anew of just how vital our unity has come to be. Far away — and near at home — grim and grave challenges have confronted us. Southeast Asian situation, told newsmen Monday "it is safe to assume" that North Viet Nam's different America's role might be, if we were today a nation free agent."

Ignoring Errors One Way Out

expected to lose one club and three diamonds, and that's exactly what happened to him.

Declarer won the first trick with the ace of clubs, drew trumps, and led a diamond toward dummy. All would go well if West happened to have both the ace and the king of diamonds.

This forlorn hope was dashed when East captured dummy's queen of diamonds and returned the suit.

"It wasn't your fault," South told his partner magnanimously. "You had a perfectly good jump raise. We were just unlucky that you had three diamonds and two hearts instead of the opposite."

"It wasn't your fault either," North replied courteously. "You did your best."

This was true, but South's best was not good enough. He threw away a perfectly safe chance to make his contract. It simply never occurred to him to try a finesse in his singleton suit, hearts.

After drawing trumps, South should lead his singleton heart and try a finesse with dummy's queen. As the cards lie, the finesse works, and South can discard his losing club on the ace of hearts. He eventually loses three diamonds, but nothing else.

Even if the heart finesse loses, South can later discard his losing club on dummy's ace of hearts. At worst, therefore, the opponents get a heart and three diamonds instead of a club and three diamonds.

There are times when you must try a finesse in your singleton suit even if you risk going down two instead of just one. You should be willing to gamble an extra hundred points on an even chance to score game and rubber.

Your Problems

Behind 8-Ball on Expenses; Desires Job as Paid Escort

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not a gag. I think you are a broad-minded person with a big reading a u d i e n c e and hope you will help me.

The high cost of living has put me behind the 8-ball. No matter how I try, it is impossible to maintain a good address, decent clothes and have money left to drive a car and do some interesting things.

I am 29 years old, unmarried, very good looking, an engaging conversationalist and am at home with all types of people.

I would like to make myself available (to high type women only) for $30 an evening plus expenses. I want only to serve as an escort—so please don't assume anything beyond that. I have a new Corvette and well cut clothes.

Hundreds of women sit at home simply because they do not know an attractive, respectable man who will take them out. I could give a woman a wonderful evening in exchange for this modest stipend.

Will you help me to help them and myself at the same time? —R.M.

DEAR R. M.: I can't think of a printable name to describe your line of work, but "escort service" is a widely employed euphemism. Look in the phone book and line yourself up. (Your city has one.)

P.S. If a dame doesn't have $30, how much would you charge for allowing her to stand at the curb and watch you drive by?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 12-year-old girl with a 4-year-old problem—my brother.

He is a very good eater when a sister of the bride, Mrs. Cyr, it comes to candy, ice cream il Schneider, Kimberly, was ma- and popsicles, but when it tron of honor. Assisting as comes to regular meals he bridesmaids were Mrs. Lloyd leaves half of his meat and does Vlies and Miss Mary Woelfel, not even touch his vegetables.

A brother of the bridegroom, He hardly ever drinks his milk. Albert Bowe, route 3, Chilton, Fifteen minutes after he walks served as best man. Dale Wol- away from the dinner table he lersheim and Joseph Woelfel is begging mom for popcorn or acted as groomsmen. Ushering a glass of lemonade. How come duties were shared by Milford he has room for such things Conrad and Joseph Joas, when just a little while before Ziegelbauers Hall, Jericho, he said he couldn't eat another was the setting for a wedding bite?

My brother is very skinny and I am afraid he will not grow if he doesn't eat right. I have tried C. Nielsen Marketing Research, he doesn't eat right. I have tried Co. Fond du Lac. Mr. Bowe is to explain this to him but he payroll clerk at the Valley Iron doesn't understand. Will you Works Corp., Appleton.

After a wedding trip to north- ern Wisconsin, the couple will live at route 3, Chilton.

Delegates For Pythian Grand Temple Told

Representing the Pythian Sisters at the Grand Temple, Aug. 30, in Milwaukee, will be Mrs. Henry Staedt, Mrs. Russell Peterson, first alternate, Mrs. Lot- tie Schmidt, past grand chief, and Mrs. Gilbert Wolft, grand chief, Port Washington, will be the guest speaker at a 6 p.m. dinner Sept. 21 at the Pythian Hall. She will speak on the rit- the Pythian Sisters.

Children who don't finish their meat and vegetables should not be allowed to fill up between meals on candy and lemonade.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is 20 years of age. Alicia's divorce will be final in a few months.

This is our problem: Alicia has been working out of the state. She met a young man and wants to marry him. She has written to ask us if she may bring the young man home with her when she returns in about a month. Alicia wants permission to have him live in our house until he finds a job so they can be married.

My husband says this arrangement sounds scandalous and he refuses to consider the idea—unless you approve it. Ann. I don't know what to say because I realize times have changed since I was a girl and I want to be fair. Can you advise us?—Old Fashioned

Dear Old Fashioned: How lucky can one girl get? Not even legally unwound from one mistake and here she has another man (unemployed yet) all lined up to move in. Tell your daughter nix on the boarder-roomer routine.

A person who is not legally divorced is still married. And folks who are not married should not be living together. This should put an end to the Great Debate.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For the Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teen Marriages Stumble On Financial Blocks

"Early marriage, long love," says an old German proverb. "Early marriage, short love," say the statistics. The facts, alas, are on their side.

In nearly half of the couples that end up losers in the game of love, the wife was in her teens when she married. The younger the bride, the less chance her marriage has of succeeding, according to statistics. The odds are even worse when both the bride and the bridegroom are still in their teens. Marriages between teenagers, in fact, have twice the break-up rate of those where the woman is at least 21 and the man over 24.

Marriage counselors and social scientists give any number of reasons for all this. The most obvious one is plain and simple: immaturity. It's difficult enough for two reasonably grown-up people to adjust to each other's needs and expectations. For teenagers suddenly thrust into the responsibilities and problems of adult life, it's often too much too soon.

Causes of Drop-Outs

The adjustment problems of young couples are complicated by the fact that, on the whole, it is the less mature and stable of teen-agers who tends to marry while still in high school.

A fifth of the girls who drop out of high school give marriage as the main reason. Ask why they married, many give such disturbing answers as "I was pregnant," "getting away from home," "poor grades in school" and, quite simply, "spite."

Another of the emotional difficulties facing teen-age couples is the often painful contrast between the romantic fantasies of young people in love and the

The Ailing House Two Ways To Reduce Light Hum

BY ROGER C. Whitman

Q: I have a fluorescent light over the kitchen sink which always has a hum when it is in use. What causes this? How can it be eliminated?

A: A certain amount of hum in the ballast is normal and usually it is not very noticeable. There may be loose screws holding the ballast in your fixture. Try tightening the screw to correct the hum. Or place a piece of foam rubber under the ballast to act as a noise absorber. Be sure the current in the branch circuit is turned off before doing any kind of repair!

Q: Our living room is papered. We have a chimney extending through the room. When we let our coal furnace fire go out, the paper on the chimney sweats in places. We bought a dehumidifier (which runs continually) for the basement, but that hasn't helped. What do you suggest we do?

A: The sweating of the paper on the chimney is due to condensation forming when the warmer humid house air comes in contact with the cooler surface over the chimney. I suspect the plaster was applied directly to the chimney brick, without an insulating air space between, so that the plaster is the same temperature as the brick underneath. The chimney is cooler when the fire is out. Building a false wall of plasterboard panels on one-inch furring strips along the chimney will provide the insulating space. The panels can then be papered or painted to match the rest of the room.

Q: Our problem is a small bug no bigger than a dot. We have a new home and first notices them when we opened the windows because you could see them crawl on the white framework. They are also on the patio. They seem to multiply very fast. What can be done to get rid of this pest?

A: These sound very much like clover mites frequently described as tiny grains of pepper, or dots. For positive identification and elimination, I suggest calling in a reputable exterminator. These insects seem more prevalent on new property and feed and breed on grass and other plants. A good miticide should be sprayed on any shrub very close to the house and on grass in a 10-foot wide strip around the building. For mites indoors, use a pyrethrum contact spray.

South Vote May Reward An 'Enemy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big question in this year's presidential race is whether the South will "reward a political enemy and punish an old friend," Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., says.

In a statement released in Washington Sunday, Vinson said this would be the case if the South supports Sen. Barry Goldwater and opposes President Johnson.

He said the question is whether the South will be "blinded by its anger and frustration of the moment regarding its civil rights problems."

Vinson said there have been years "that organized agitators and do-gooder groups have been pushing the current civil rights crisis upon the South."

Voting Records

Johnson and Goldwater have voting records over these years, he said, "and both are poised today in roles almost exactly opposite their official records. Why?"

He said Johnson followed the course of all other Southerners "in attempting to stem the storm," while he said Goldwater "followed the opposite course" and "repeatedly identified himself with proponents for civil rights."

Contending that Goldwater has reversed himself, he asked, "Can it be purely for political expediency?"

Johnson, as a Southerner, "espoused the cause of the South," said Vinson, while "Lyndon Johnson, as President, had no other choice but to reflect the will of a majority of the nation."

"Agony of the moment may well cause Southerners to forget the now more remote agonies of recent years, but this lapse of memory will not change the facts."

Parents' World

Abandoned Mother Needs Understanding of Causes

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: How do I go about telling my children their father is just no good? They're now 12 and 4, and their father walked out on us almost three years ago. The younger child has never asked any questions at all, but I know the older child was very hurt at the time. But we just can't discuss the situation openly; it seems.

MRS. T. O.

Dr. Jones

Why not? How have you handled so far the questions your children have asked about their father? What have you said to them or in front of them about their father? And how do you understand situation that led to such a breakup of your marriage?

Until you get straight in your own mind what caused the breakup of your marriage and why you married your husband, you can't be much help to your children. Calling their father "no good" will never help. The book I'm sending you the title of can give you leads to greater self-understanding. So can the professional staff at the clinic near your home. I'll be glad to help you through a series of letters, but you'll make greater progress more quickly with direct face-to-face help.

Dear Dr. Jones: The other day, I overheard my grandchildren playing, and something happened that made me wonder if a problem is going to grow. There are three children, the oldest a seven-year-old girl. When they decided to play house, she shouted, "I want to be the father."

When I asked why, she answered, "I want to be the boss, of course."

I must admit that their father runs their household and my daughter seems to like it that way. But my grandchildren are growing up into a completely different world. And I worry that it will hinder them for them to accept so automatically the idea that men are supposed to be in charge, with all the envy that such a view involves, rather than that men and women should have an equal partnership.

MRS. O. T.

I agree that the marriage relationship you describe between your daughter and her husband is one that's going out of date and that's likely to lead to a great deal of unnecessary bad feelings. But it wouldn't help her daughters develop better ideas of themselves if she tried to talk of equality while providing an example of subordination to her husband. So let's just hope that she isn't creating other more lasting feelings in her daughters of guilt and shame. If her girls are basically accepting of themselves, they'll be able to create an equal give and take with men when they get out into the wide world of tomorrow.

TAFFY'S TIPS By Dolly Martin

HAIRDO FOR TRIANGLE-SHAPED FACE

Your face can be triangular two different ways. If you chin is narrow and your forehead broad you are top-heavy—chin wide and forehead narrow you are bottom-heavy. The trick to remember is to get the right balance in a hairdo.

For a narrow chin, add fullness at bottom and keep it out and fluffy. For the other extreme, add some top width as shown in the drawing and have just a little softness around the face.

The heart-shaped face is also the one with the small chin and broad forehead. This hairdo is good for this shape of face as well, but it's best in most cases to cover the ears slightly. As you will notice, most hair styles can be set in the same pattern but it's the way you brush out the set and sweep it to one side, tease the top a bit or flatten at the ears that makes the different styles.

Handy girls get one good basic setting pattern perfected and then takes the extra time and effort in combing and brushing out. And if you will spend sometimes even half an hour fussing with the final comb-out, you will get just the right look you want

Convention Ends Without a Word

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — About 250 persons closed a three-day convention Sunday by electing a new president.

The politicking had the same nerve as a national party convention, but there was a big difference — not a word was spoken.

William Fansler of Topeka, the new president of the Kansas Association of the Deaf, delivered his acceptance speech in sign language.

Mrs. Clem Dillenschneider of Kansas City sang "America" with her hands, and Howard Palmer of Jackson, Miss, drew roars of laughter with a pantomime act.

At a convention dance Saturday night the floor was jammed with couples. The deaf explained they could feel the beat of the music through the soles of their feet.

Associated Press Has More Than 150 at the Convention

News Material to be Transmitted From Hall in Atlantic City, N. J.

The Associated Press has assigned more than 150 news and photo staffers to carry the story of the Democratic National Convention to the nation and the world.

Their reports, bulletins and pictures will be transmitted instantly over a network of leased wires operating from Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N.J.

The convention opens Aug. 24, but staffers will be on hand well before that to cover preliminary activity.

William L. Beale Jr., Washington Bureau chief and veteran of 14 national conventions, will supervise the news report. The news editor will be Marvin L. Arrowsmith, news editor of the Washington Bureau and former White House correspondent.

F. A. Resch, AP general news-photo editor, who has covered conventions since 1932, will direct photographic coverage.

His supervisory editors will include Patrick J. McDonald and Robert L. Ticken from New York, Barry Stroup from Washington, William F. Achatz from Philadelphia, Richard Strobel from Los Angeles, and James Laxson from Atlanta, all veterans of numerous conventions.

Newsmen and photographers from AP bureaus across the country will join in the coverage.

In addition to the general stories on the convention, the AP will provide widespread regional coverage. The object is a story for morning newspapers and another for afternoon newspapers each day for each state on activities of their delegations.

Two Desks

Two closely coordinated editing desks will be set up. One, headed by J. W. Davis of the Washington Bureau, will handle the general news, and another supervised by Bennett Wolfe of the Washington Bureau will have charge of state and regional news.

The general leads for morning newspapers will be written by Douglas B. Cornell, a veteran of almost 35 years of Washington news coverage and a specialist in the wrap-up story of big events.

The overnight leads for afternoon newspapers will be handled by Jack Bell, head of the AP Senate staff for 22 years, with spot tops during the day by Harry Kelly, also a Washington news veteran.

Frank Cormier, White House correspondent, will cover the activities of President Johnson. Also on hand will be reporters regularly assigned to political figures who have been mentioned as possibilities for the vice presidential nomination.

Wire Network

Art Edson of Washington and special correspondent Saul Pett of New York will write behind-the-scenes news and feature stories. James Marlow, news analyst, will interpret convention developments in his "The World Today" column.

Frances Lewine, who regularly covers news of the nation's First Ladies, and Joy Miller of New York, will write of the staff personalities on the convention scene.

The AP staff will work in three shifts around the clock to provide up-to-the-minute news and photo coverage.

During the convention sessions, private telephone lines will link the AP news desks with reporters on the platform and on the floor.

General News

Experienced operators will man teletype machines and wirephoto transmitters that will feed a network of leased wires. Copy will flow from Convention Hall into two AP national news wires and the AP's national Wirephoto network. A third national news wire will be in reserve for use as needed.

Also, regional wires will be available to transmit to four sections of the country news of special interest to the areas. Regional Wirephoto network legs will provide a similar service for pictures.

Resch will have a convention staff of more than 50 photographers, photo editors and darkroom technicians.

Among AP's convention photographers will be Murray Becker, John Rooney, Harry Harris and John Lindsay from New York, William J. Smith, William C. Allen, Harvey Georges, John Rous and Henry Burroughs from Washington, William A. Smith from Baltimore, Warren Winterbottom from Philadelphia, Paul Vathis from Harrisburg, Charles Knoblock from Chicago, Charles Kelly from Milwaukee, and Robert Daugherty from Indianapolis.

Davis will be assisted at the day general news desk by Harry Kelly, W. H. Mobley and Larry Osius.

The night general desk will be manned by Don Sanders, Lew Hawkins and Gardner Bridge; the early general desk by Joe Kane, Barry Schweid and Stanley Meisler.

Assigned to the Convention Hall platform are William Arbogast, Raymond J. Crowley, John Beckler, Geoff Gould, Wilbur Martin and Joe Mohbat.

Platform hearings, prior to the convention, will be covered by Bell, Cornell, John Chadwick, Edmond Lebreton and Sterling Green.

Iran Tribe Leaders Sentenced to Death

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A military tribunal in Shiraz Saturday sentenced six tribal leaders to death and six others to long prison terms for the 1963 rebellion near Shiraz, during which more than 100 soldiers were killed.

Five employees were chatting in the Central California Irrigation District office just before quitting time Friday.

Then Jimmie Reid Allen, 24, noticed an odd object — shaped like a beer can.

He picked it up and pulled out a pin.

Suddenly appearing to realize what it might be, Allen thrust it against his stomach and bled up — possibly to save his companions.

The grenade exploded.

Allen was injured fatally.

Two companions were hurt slightly; two not at all.

An Air Force demolition team said the grenade was of the U.S. percussion type. One fragment bore the date 1952.

Monday sentenced six tribal leaders to death and six others to long prison terms for the 1963 rebellion near Shiraz, during which more than 100 soldiers were killed.

Japan Wants Notice on Soviet Rocket Tests

TOKYO (AP) — Japan asked the Soviet Union Monday for notice whenever it plans to launch rockets into the Pacific, the foreign ministry announced.

The Soviet Union announced July 31 that it will conduct a series of rocket tests in the Pacific from Aug. 4 through Dec. 30.

Japan said in its note that it reserves all rights for compensation for damages or losses incurred by Japanese nationals as a result of the Soviet experiments.

Peking Began Draft 3 Weeks Before Crisis, Delayed Report States

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China started pressing huge numbers of youths, factory workers and government officials into military service three weeks before the Gulf of Tonkin crisis, according to delayed official reports.

The reports said more than half a million people had been drafted and more are being called up.

Men and women are being taught "grenade throwing, anti-aircraft defense, forced marches, emergency assembly and sabotage," Radio Changchow in the central China province of Honana said.

The station said that children were taking part in the training.

The reports were picked up by reliable Western research and intelligence organizations here.

Man Kills Self To Save Friends

LOS BANOS, Calif. (AP) — Five employees were chatting in the Central California Irrigation District office just before quitting time Friday.

Then Jimmie Reid Allen, 24, noticed an odd object — shaped like a beer can.

He picked it up and pulled out a pin.

Suddenly appearing to realize what it might be, Allen thrust it against his stomach and bled up — possibly to save his companions.

The grenade exploded.

Allen was injured fatally.

Two companions were hurt slightly; two not at all.

An Air Force demolition team said the grenade was of the U.S. percussion type. One fragment bore the date 1952.

Monday sentenced six tribal leaders to death and six others to long prison terms for the 1963 rebellion near Shiraz, during which more than 100 soldiers were killed.

State Municipal Officials Discuss Labor Relations

Debate Occurs on Right of Press to Cover Negotiations

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — City hall officials of Wisconsin spent a long day Monday in academic discussion of municipal labor relations capped by a lively debate about the right of the press to cover negotiation of government labor contracts and the mediation of labor disputes.

City Manager Douglas Wellford, Eau Claire, set off the argument with an earnest and determined assertion that "the people's right to know" is one of the bulwarks of the American democratic system and that publicity about all governmental affairs is essential in preserving it.

But he got an equally insistent response from a ranking state labor agency official and an outside expert in the subject.

'Best in Private'

Arvid Anderson, member of the state employment relations board which is handling such labor matters under recently enacted state laws, said negotiations and mediation can best be handled in private.

Prof. Rollin B. Posey, now a New York publishing executive and formerly an expert in labor relations in the political science department of Northwestern University, also told the local government leaders that private sessions in labor matters are preferable.

The fact that more than 200 local government officials, including many mayors and councilmen, sat through half a dozen technical addresses on the subject of labor relations suggested the awareness of local government circles about a problem field that has become more commanding with the enactment of pro-labor laws by the legislature in recent years.

Opposed Recognition

Manager Ed Johnson of the sponsoring League of Wisconsin Municipalities noted that municipalities had opposed the union recognition and collective bargaining acts imposed by the legislature upon local administrations, but said that since they are now the law of the state, it is the duty of localities to act under them in good faith.

Municipalities were informed again and again that strikes in the public services are illegal in Wisconsin, but that they occasionally occur, nevertheless. Much of the discussion related to techniques of preventing stalemates and break-downs leading to state agency intervention or employee walk-outs.

The argument against news coverage of local government labor negotiations and fact finding proceedings, as presented at the League institute, is that officials and union agents tend to make propaganda when publicity avenues are available, and that attitudes and positions harden and thus tend to prevent amicable or adequate settlement of differences.

Parting Rebuttal

But Wellford entered a parting rebuttal at the institute's close when he said his personal philosophy strongly opposes secrecy in any aspect of local government and that his city council at Eau Claire has consistently upheld his position.

The decisions made in bargaining or mediation sessions in local government labor situations are "political decisions," the labor organization is in effect a political organization, and publicity affords a "measure of protection in dealing with a political organization," he maintained.

Prof. Posey retorted that such an argument is "idealistic".

The constitutional fathers of the country, he said, met in a secret convention because they thought they could write a better document of fundamental law with candid debates removed from the eye and ear of their constituents, he said.

Sweden Crayfish Crop Gone to Pot; Import Lobsters

STOCKHOLM, AP — Sweden's crayfish season started Saturday with planloads of the miniature lobsters imported from abroad because this country's crop has gone to pot.

Crayfish fans have to pay up to 60 cents for one crayfish at a restaurant and 30 cents if they buy them in a store and eat them at home. Since a real gourmet is capable of eating at least 20 crayfish the cost will make quite a hole in his pocket.

Crayfish have died in the thousands in Swedish waters in recent years from a disease that affects only crayfish, not common fish.

So planloads of crayfish from Russia, Finland, Yugoslavia and Norway were brought in last night to make up for the loss and to make it possible for Swedes to enjoy them in the traditional way — served cold with toast, cheese, schnapps and lots of strong beer.

New Phone Number Given 'Old Timer,' The Wandering Turtle

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Old Timer, a turtle, has a new telephone number.

It's painted on his back with nail polish.

Because his old phone number was out of date, it took quite a bit of doing for the people who found him recently, two miles from his home, to return him to the Richard Walker family.

That was because he had his old number, which was for a phone in Ukiah, 75 miles from here, where the Walker family lived until five months ago.

Mrs. Walker said she painted the original number on him after he wandered off and was gone three months.

Now, at the urging of the four Walker children, she has got out the nail polish and Old Timer's phone number is up to date.

Police Find Palm Print of Terrorist

ST. HELIER, Jersey, Channel Islands (AP) — A palm print on a window ledge has given Scotland Yard its first solid clue to a maniac who has terrorized the holiday island of Jersey for seven years.

In that time at least 16 young sters — girls and boys — have been enticed from their beds and sexually assaulted.

All the victims told of a soft-spoken man who woke them during the night, persuaded them to leave their beds and assaulted them in nearby fields.

The attacks continued steadily from 1957 to 1961, then broke off until this year.

Indigents' Attorney Fees Get Approval

Outagamie Board Reluctantly Votes $27,000 for Legal Expenses

Outagamie County Board supervisors today reluctantly voted to pay legal expenses of indigents who appear in county and in Circuit Courts.

By a vote of 38-14, the board voted to appropriate a total of $27,000 to cover legal expenses incurred so far this year and anticipated for the rest of the year in Outagamie County Branches 2 and 3 and in Circuit Court.

The action is a direct result of a State Supreme Court ruling which says all indigents have the right to defense counsel and a day in court.

Corporation Counsel Albert W. Ponath and several supervisors attacked the Supreme Court decision which makes the appropriations necessary.

Ponath said the court action "is a result of today's thinking

Appeals Unit Okays Garage At Hospital

Kaukauna Group Approves Permit for Metal Storage Shed

KAUKAUNA — The board of appeals voted Monday to recommend to the common council the granting of a building permit to the Kaukauna Community Hospital for construction of a 24 by 24-foot storage shed.

Board members indicated the permit should be classed as temporary. Hospital officials said that the shed would be removed or changed at the time additional hospital construction is undertaken.

Hospital officials indicated a $3,000 Butler building had been purchased and was to be constructed 45 feet south of the south line of E. Twelfth Street and 225 feet west of Oakridge Avenue near the hospital parking lot.

Had Permit

The building permit inspector had refused the permit as the building would not conform to the minimum 60-foot setback required by ordinance.

Ald. Russell Dix, 4th, and Richard Helf, 3rd, objected to the type of building being considered. Both informed the appeals board voters had voiced objection to the enameled metal garage building and felt a more permanent type of building of similar construction like the hospital should be built.

Hospital officials considered this impractical at the present time as they had no way of knowing which way future hospital construction would move and whether the contemplated building would be adequate.

Merely Temporary

James Bamberg, hospital board secretary, indicated the metal building would be merely temporary and serve as a utility structure to store gasoline cans, lawn mowers and auxiliary equipment.

He indicated the building would not detract from the appearance of the residential neighborhood as hospital officials were interested in keeping the area as neat and pleasant appearing as possible.

Bamberg pointed out the size and type of structure could be changed by architects who might design future hospital additions.

The common council will study the appeal board recommendation Tuesday.

Kimberly Firemen Answer False Alarm

KIMBERLY — Volunteer firemen answered a false alarm to a call box at Second and Pine Streets about 9:45 p.m. Saturday but found no evidence of fire.

that the 'poor criminal' must be pitied. No thought is being given at all these days to the person who is offended by this 'poor criminal.' If we want to change this we must change our thinking about the 'poor criminal.' " "If a man pleads guilty," Ponath said, "why does the Supreme Court send this man back to us and say the criminal must have his day in court?"

County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler said because of the Supreme Court ruling, expenses have gone up for jury and sheriff's fees and all other areas of court operations.

Bar Agrees

"Each indigent has the right to a defense attorney," Woehler said, "and the Outagamie County Bar is going along with the State Bar Association's recommendation the defense attorney must collect $200 for each day in court and $20 an hour for research and preparation of a case."

Several supervisors objected to the legal rates and claimed they were "way out of line." Supv. Arthur Hoolihan (Appleton, 11th) said, "Attorneys wouldn't charge that much if they were retained by a private citizen."

Ponath said the $200 rate, which was set by the state bar, has been approved by the State Supreme Court, but "the attorney must prove he earned it."

No Difference

Of the $27,000, Outagamie County Branch 2 gets $15,000, Circuit Court gets $8,000 and Branch 3 gets $4,000.

After the resolution was passed, County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, said, "It wouldn't have made any difference if you had voted it down. We'd have to pay for it anyway."

Supv. Sylvester Esler (Appleton, 18th) replied, "Yes, you're right, but at least we made the public aware of the problem."

YMCA Rifle Range Reported Vandalized

A rifle range used by the YMCA in the basement of the old Fraser Lumber Co., 415 N. Superior St., was vandalized sometime overnight. Appleton police said.

Damaged were targets which were thrown around, shells and other material stored in the basement. Paint was spilled on the floor and 12 floodlights were broken.

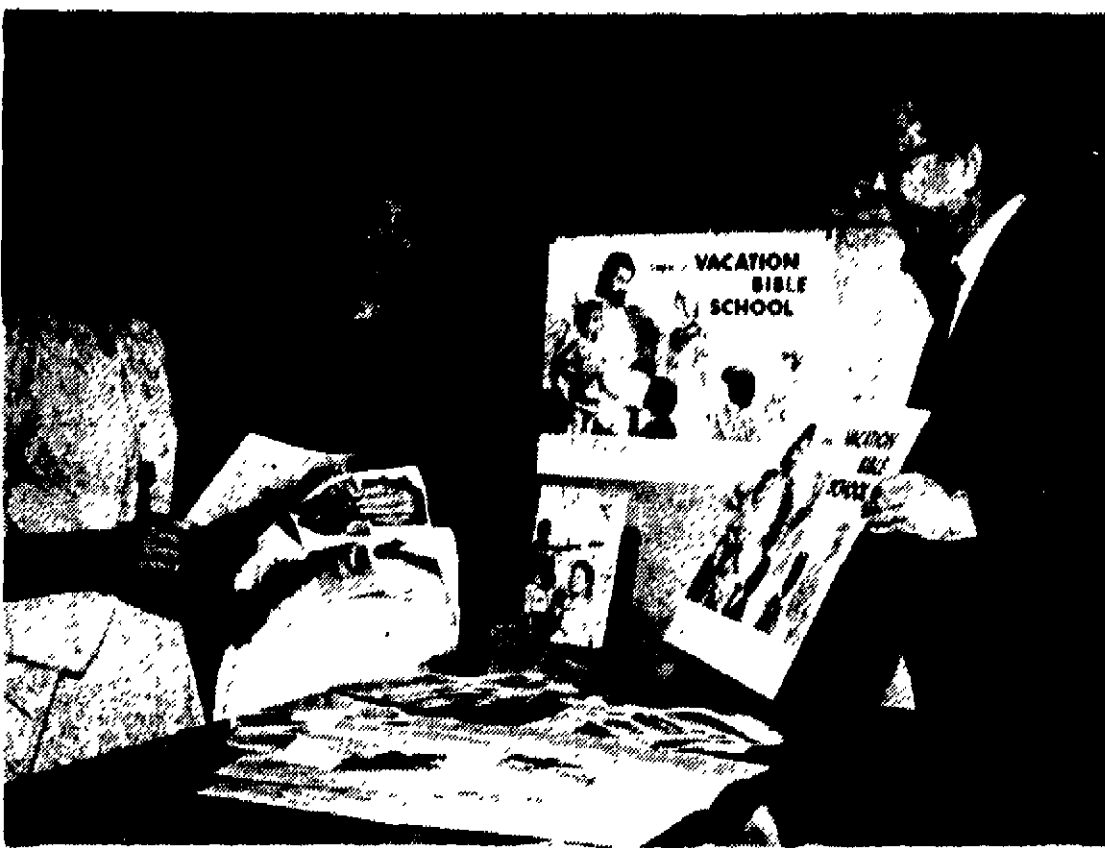

Police said entry was made by forcing a screen and window.

Boy, 9, Hurt as He Darts in Front of Car

George Smalley Jr., 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smalley, 614 E. North St., was injured but not hospitalized Monday when he was struck by a car on N. Lave at E. North street.

The boy darted in front of a car being driven by Alvin L. Richison, 45, route 1, Slinger. Richison took the boy to his home. The accident occurred about 12 p.m.

Outagamie County Republicans got ready Monday for their annual corn roast in Kimberly Thursday when candidates and incumbents competed with each other to see who could shuck corn the fastest. Expedition Members Face Cold Night of Wind, Rain

Five of Group Separated From Others as Weather Closes in

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

ISLE ROYALE — The weather has closed in and we have lost our comrades. There is a likelihood, an unpleasant one, they will spend the night in the woods without food or shelter or sleeping bags. Those of us who remain at McCargo Cove are worried for their comfort if not for their safety.

They marched off — five of them — to study an ancient mine and to search for artifacts which will help us in our quest to determine the identity of the mysterious people who mined three boats to a rendezvous some 15 miles away to pick up our friends. Obviously all the food and all the camping gear was to be transported by boat, leaving our comrades unladen to walk the tough forest trails.

An hour after their departure we were chased from our diving duties by high winds and hard rains. Our foursome ran for shelter.

When the rains stopped, we headed out of our protected cove and into a flamboyantly wild Lake Superior. Hitchcock ran out of the cove first. I followed, with Wiegand serving as first mate; and Jones brought up the rear.

Great Waves

In moments, great waves smashed at us. Hitchcock made a despairing circle and headed back. I turned our craft into the wind and three breakers hit us such blows we literally danced out of the water. Ten such waves would have smashed us out of commission.

As I made my turn, Jones turned too and we ran hard for the lee of the land. Gratefully we ran to safety and we were committed by good sense to remain there for the night.

Now far away, our comrades who are deep in the forest may not yet be aware of the 30 mile an hour winds. If however, they reach the top of a ridge and hear the aspens crying "fshhhhhhhhh" they will know and they will turn back.

Pretty Cool

But it is dusk as I write this and we have all but given up hope of rescuing them from a very cold night of discomfort, at any rate for tonight. Soon the woods will be too dark for walking down the dim trails and we know they will elect to try to make a night of it. The temperature is in the 30's.

Charles House is on a scientific expedition sponsored by the Oshkosh Public Museum with field headquarters at McCargo Cove on Isle Royale in Lake Superior. This is another in a series of his articles.

Someone has estimated the numerous pit mines here — about 1,000 of them — indicate about 10,000 people worked here more than a thousand years. It is not known who they were.

Our comrades set out to investigate the pits while four of us — Geologist P. H. Wiegand; our marine archeologist, Owen Jones, both of Milwaukee; Steven Hitchcock of Oshkosh, and I of you-know-where remained behind to live over a place where these ancients might have and could have had accidents.

Youth to Face Sentencing for Escape Attempt

An Appleton youth who attempted to escape from the Outagamie County jail last Friday morning pleaded guilty today in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 of a charge of attempted escape.

Sentencing for the youth, Warren D. Schroeder, 17, 1015 N. Appleton St., was set for Friday by County Judge Gustave Keller. Schroeder was waived from juvenile court authority. He was being held for operating a vehicle without the consent of an owner.

A second youth who participated in the attempted break will be handled through juvenile court. He is 16.

The youths overpowered jailer Kermit Herman, who went to their juvenile cell when he heard their call. Herman received cuts and bruises before a second jailer and radio operator George Hanlon was able to come to Herman's aid. Herman and Hanlon then subdued the youths.

Found in the cell were torn bed sheets which Sheriff Calvin Spice said the youths may have been making to tie up the jailers or to climb out the window and down the side of the building.

Board Delays Sale Of Outagamie Farm

Take Bids for Attorney Post Until Sept. 1

Mitchell to Make Appointment After Consulting Bar Unit

Mayor Clarence Mitchell said today he will receive applications for the newly-created position of part-time assistant city attorney until Sept. 1.

The city council, at its last meeting, instructed the welfare ordinance committee to prepare an ordinance establishing the post which will pay $3,600 a year.

Mitchell said he already had received one application from a woman attorney.

He said he will ask the Outagamie County Bar Association to help screen applicants. He will then make the appointment from those certified by the association. The appointment will have to be confirmed by the council.

The person selected will serve until May 1, 1966, or whenever the position of city attorney is made full-time, whichever comes first.

Frederick E. Froehlich is the city's elected part-time city attorney at $6,980 a year. His second term began May 1. The city has also hired attorney Robert Sundby of Madison as part-time legal counsel on labor matters.

Duties of Froehlich's part-time assistant have not been determined.

Reconstruction of W. Seymour Street (U.S. 10) on Appleton's southside has been recommended for 1965 by the State Highway Commission.

The street extends from Memorial Drive to S. Oneida Street.

Seek to Postpone Resolution to Sell Property; Further Action Due After Manager's Testimony

BY DICK LYNEIS

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Getting rid of the Outagamie County farm seems to be a problem.

Everyone connected with the management of the Outagamie County Hospital, operator of the farm, wants to sell the farm, but a group of county board supervisors blocks the sale everytime it comes before the county board.

It was the same story this morning. The resolution to sell the farm, which had been laid over since the July board session, was delayed again.

Supv. Clarence Miller (Appleton 9) moved the resolution be laid over to the January session.

Original Resolution

The original resolution, offered at the July session and approved by hospital trustees and the county board's health, education and institutions committee, specified all farm personal property be sold and all farm land be turned over to the county for whatever use it wants, except for 50 acres for use by the hospital.

When the matter came up this morning, several amendments and amendments to the amendments were offered and the board delayed action until a special order of business to discuss the question in the afternoon.

Miller said the county could get bigger prices for machinery, livestock and the grain crop if it was sold in the spring. So, Miller said, the county board shouldn't do anything until spring.

Employment Problem

Supv. George Kroes (Town of Vandenberg) went even further than Miller. He said 15 people work at the farm and would be out of a job if the farm was sold. "I don't think we should take anything away from them," Kroes said, "I think we should study this problem further between now and January." Kroes asked a special committee be formed to study the problem.

The question of whether to sell the farm has been studied in the past by the health education and institutions committee, plus the agricultural and executive committees.

Supv. Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4) told the board, "If we prolong this thing until next year, the county hospital will have to prepare another farm budget for next year."

Agent's Opinion

"And," he went on, "if machinery will bring a better price in the spring, we can sell it then." Then he read an opinion from County Agent Russell Luckow which stated the county could get a better price for cows if they were sold in the fall. "From a seller's standpoint," Luckow's letter said, "spring sales haven't been as good as fall sales."

Kloes said "the biggest problem is that the hospital people don't want the farm. Why not let them go about the business that they're there for."

"They don't want it," Kloes said, "and they say it has no therapeutic value for the patients. So why do you insist on putting this off? Let the hospital people devote their time for what they are there for."

Price of Cows

Both Supvs. Arthur Lecker (Town of Grand Chute) and Joseph Weyers (Town of Freedom) agreed with Kloes the county could get a better price for cows if they were sold in 30 days.

But Supv. Ervin Conradt (Town of Bovina) thought the cows should be sold in the spring "if most of them are going to freshen then."

Finally, after much argument about how many cows are going to "freshen" and when, Supv. Al Fischer (Appleton 14) moved the question be put back until 1:30 p.m. when the farm manager could be present to tell the county board about calf prospects.

The race for the championship and the college scholarship that goes with it will be held Saturday in Akron. Bos will stay with 239 other entrants in Derbytown, a boys camp near Akron.

Scholarship Prize

Bos will be competing for a $7,500 first place college scholarship and the world championship trophy.

Five rounds of racing are conducted, with the first round consisting of 240 entries in 80 three-car heats. A boy must defeat two other racers in the first three rounds in order to qualify for the championship level.

Scholarships and trophies are awarded for finishers down through ninth place, and total $30,000.

Bos will be treated to a varied list of activities at Derbytown. His parents will stay in a nearby motel and will be guests at various dinners and gatherings with the other racers' parents.

Firemen, Union Vote Delayed

WERB Examiner Late; Election Date to be Reset

A scheduled union representation election for members of the Appleton Fire Department was postponed today when the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board representative reportedly arrived late.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehn said he was told by the WERB examiner from Madison another date would be set for the election.

Balloting was to have taken place at the No. 1 fire station between 7 and 9 a.m.

Kuehn said when the WERB man failed to arrive by 7:45 a.m., many of the men left.

Recently, Local 257 of the International Association of Firefighters asked the common council to recognize it as the official bargaining representative for members of the fire department. The council's personnel committee refused.

Local 257 then asked the WERB to schedule an election in which all members of the department, except the chief and two assistant chiefs, were eligible to participate.

There are 78 men in the department and records show 14 do not belong to the union.

Local 257 has represented the local firemen since 1923.

Kuehn said he was told the election will be re-scheduled as soon as possible.

Official Praises Construction of Man-Made Lake

Construction of a one-acre lake planned by the Outagamie County Conservation Club in the Town of Center is "one of the soundest, most forward looking investments" the club could make, a regional official said Monday.

Gordon A. Bubolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, spoke to the club at its monthly meeting.

The building of man-made lakes on land suited for that purpose will give momentum to wildlife development programs and help to maintain water tables and moisture needs as well as provide recreation, he said.

The Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, Bubolz concluded, is assisting the Outagamie County Conservation Club in securing state support and approval of the lake.

Sets Nearing Completion for 'My Fair Lady' Presentation

NEENAH — The set for "My Fair Lady" is being designed by Bill Mattes and it is nearing completion with eight of the nine different scenes already constructed. Dave Blake heads the scenery crew and the job of painting and putting on the finishing touches will be his responsibility.

Arena theater taxes a set designer in any theater but especially at Riverside Pavilion where scenes and set pieces must be large enough to be seen but not so large that they hide actors, orchestra, or are too heavy to move off and on quickly, points out producer Kenneth Anderson. Mattes designed the unique setting for "The Fantasticks," Riverside Players' winter musical.

There are 16 scene changes in "My Fair Lady" which opens Aug. 20 and runs through Aug. 23, with a second weekend presentation Aug. 27 through 30.

Riverside Players report that there are less than 20 tickets left for the first Saturday performance Aug. 22 and all nights of the first weekend are in demand.

Exchange coupons are available from the cast, at the Camera and Card Shop, or at the soda fountain at the Neenah Pool. These coupons must be exchanged for reserved seat tickets during the hours 1 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m. Mondays through Fridays at the meeting room of the Neenah Pool.

'Happy' for Three Reasons

Menasha Town Board Welcome Firm's Move

NEENAH — The board of the judgment — not on political, or Town of Neenah has adopted an other, preference for the Town of Neenah; "Our hope is that Menasha Corp. made the right decision — not just for Neenah Township — but for itself as a company. Its decision will result in benefits to the entire Twin Cities area. It is our expectation that others in the Twin Cities area — citizens and civic officials alike — will recognize the part this move must play in our community's future."

"Menasha Corporation's decision to construct a new plant and corporate office, adjacent Bergstrom Paper Company's finishing plant on Highway 41, is a move which, naturally, Town of Neenah officials welcome.

Sale Brings Need For Extra Police

Hortonville Board Okays Added Protection; Revives Permits

HORTONVILLE — The village board Thursday ordered extra policemen to be on duty during the Sidewalk Sale Aug. 21 and 22. The board authorized police chief Doug Jones to hire extra help.

The board discussed an ordinance that prohibits peddlers in the village without a permit from the chief of police. The board felt that strengthening of the ordinance might reduce the number of magazine salesmen canvassing the community. The board asks citizens to call the police if solicitors call without this permit.

The board delayed a decision on a new test well site. The last test well proved to be unsatisfactory.

The Disabled American Veterans were given permission to store cots and a wheel chair in the community hall.

The board agreed on a new policy of property line determination during new home construction.

The front will be set back twenty-five feet from the line, the side and rear setback six feet. The setback will be three feet when the building is an unattached garage. These are minimum distances.

The board will investigate annexation of the Ray Gartin property fronting S. Nash Street.

Open House

An open house will be held at the public library Aug. 18 between 2 and 4 p.m., and 7 and 8 p.m.

In other action the board was notified of a request by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. for information on all power poles needing to be moved for 1965 street work. The Wisconsin Telephone Co. notified the city that payment for street improvements would be made in December.

Mo-Ski-Tow Club Elects Officers

Newly elected officers of Mo-Ski-Tow Hill, Inc., will assume duties when the club's board of directors meet at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the View Ridge site.

Robert Parnell was elected president of the club; George Kubisiak, New London, was named vice-president and Fred Heinemann, recording secretary.

Jerry Kavaney will assume the post of corresponding secretary and Vincent Derscheid was re-elected treasurer. Mrs. James Grunwaldt was named assistant treasurer.

Parnell, a native of Appleton, is a charter member in the ski club and served a one-year appointive position to the board of directors prior to being elected to a three-year term this year.

He has also been active in Rotary Club, Kiwanis and the Appleton Jaycees. He is employed at Tuttle Press. He is married and has three children.

Kubisiak, Heinemann and Derscheid have been members of the board of directors since the club's incorporation. Kubisiak has served as president and Heinemann has acted as vice-president.

Mrs. Grunwaldt has served a three year term on the board and Kavaney was elected to the board of directors for the first time this year.

Brilliant Driver Admits Charge in Outagamie Court

Myron J. Zachowski, 21, route 1, Brillion, was fined $175 and costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today where he pleaded guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

A passenger in his car, DuWayne J. Vollmer, 32, 1113 E. Lindbergh St., was fined $30 for being drunk.

Appleton police arrested the pair this morning when the car was seen being driven erratically on W. Eighth Street. Zachowski was examined by a doctor and tested 20 on a drunk-ometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication. Both men were held in the city jail.

House and Sabin House respectively, to honor two 30-year Milwaukee - Downer presidents. The Cloak house will be named Raymond House, after Bradford P. Raymond, the first Lawrence alumnus to become president of his alma mater (1883-89). He later became president of Wesleyan University.

Remodel Main Hall

A university house at 228 N. Park Ave., which has been used for faculty housing for nearly a decade, also will be turned over to women students under the name Steel House, recognizing President George McKendree Steele who served from 1865-79. East House, adjacent to the fraternity quadrangle, is also being remodeled for women.

On the fourth floor of Main Hall 13 new faculty offices and a group of rooms for the education department are being built in the space vacated by anthropology, which is going into the new science hall complex. The most critical time for all campus changes will be the first two weeks in September, according to Business Manager Marwin O. Wroldstad. By then most of the structural changes will be done, and literally tons of office and living equipment will have to be moved about the campus at a time when summer student help has left.

Supervisor Takes Swipe At Planning

Appleton Supv. Eugene Kloes, (4) today rapped what he called the "futility of regional planning" when he supported a motion to lay over a request for rezoning of 10 acres of land along State 76 in Town of Grand Chute.

A request was made by Leon Wasserbach to rezone the acreage from agriculture to light industry. Atty. Don Jury, representing Wasserbach, said construction of an excavating firm's warehouse is slated for the area.

Supervisors agreed to lay the matter over for 30 days and study the request.

'Apparently No Plan'

Kloes said "apparently regional planners have no plan" if they approve each little change as requested by local governments. The regional planning commission and the City of Appleton have expressed approval of the zone change.

Jury said there is no master plan for the planning of the area and, if there were, his client would be willing to "go along with the plan."

Kloes blasted expenditures for planning groups which merely approve plans made "from the ground up," and have no comprehensive plan for development of the area.

Correction

Anticipated enrollment of Appleton High School on opening day Sept. 8 is 2,023, not 2,203 as reported in Monday's Post-Crescent.

perature is now about 52 degrees, and it will fall.

Our comrades who elected to go overland to the rendezvous are John Kuony and Robert Hruska, both of the Oshkosh Public Museum; Harry Brown of Big Bend, Wis.; Winston Elling of Chicago, and Dr. Robert Ritzenthaler, curator of anthropology for the Milwaukee Public Museum.

Yesterday evening after our work - a - day toil had been finished, Dr. Ritzenthaler and I slipped off to hike the trail to Chickenbone Lake, about two miles from our campsite, for enough fish to make dinner. We had a good hour, catching walleyes and northern pike sufficient for all.

Fish are Superb

Though Hitchcock and I have gravitated to the roles of "cookie" (regardless of the unpleasant remarks regarding our skills), this evening Dr. Ritzenthaler took over. His recipe for fish made them so palatable that it seems necessary to detail it; the fish were superb.

On an expedition into the Micronesian Islands, the Milwaukee anthropologist learned the method from the natives who, he said, had learned it from the Japanese.

At his direction, I cleaned and scaled the fish and cut them into about two-inch blocks. He dropped the squares into a batter which he made from ordinary pancake mix into which he mixed three eggs. Frying the fish in deep fat, he rendered them a golden, crisp delectable so good that his cooking has turned the rabble against Hitchcock and me. Dr. Ritzenthaler calls this method "Fish tempura." Good!

Best Dream

The best of every good scuba diver's dream came true yesterday for the best of our good divers, Owen Jones. Prowling the cove entrance in an area where we estimated might be the logical place for ancient accidents, he came up roaring with happiness.

Hitchcock, who was manning a boat topside for both anthropologist Hruska and for Jones, hurried to his side in the water and helped him aboard.

"Ya-hoo!" roared Jones, and he had a comic pancake flop back into the water. Helped aboard once again, he did another crazy dive in his exuberance.

Diver will know the cause of his glee: he had found a beautiful, old rusty anchor from a ship of long ago. Complete with flukes and cross-bar, it is indeed a handsome acquisition. As we viewed it though the water our guesses as to its weight run from 300 to 600 pounds, depending upon who is guessing.

Jones lashed a line to the cross-bar and four of us pulling with yeoman strength raised it partly to the bow and within our vision. Jones dove again and again, forcing air into a duffel bag and applying his Mae West to the big anchor to aid us in the lifting.

Must Wait

At last we had it high enough above the rocks to chug slowly across a bay and drop it within sight. There she lays until it is learned if the Park Service which operates this island will permit the Oshkosh museum to salvage it for a display. We will no know their judgement until we come out of the wilderness Jones, his diver's dream fulfilled, was especially generous when evening came. He grandly offered to do everybody's dishes.

We permitted him to do this. It helped him to work off steam. It is almost dark now and we know that our comrades will not have tried to make the hike back through the darkness of the forest. But the wind has risen and we know with sadness we cannot possibly save them from a cold, uncomfortable night in the woods. We must wait until tomorrow for the wind to die down or for our friends to hike back to their little, untidy nest here at McCargo Cove.

Ford Frick Will Keep Position Through 1965

Angels' Move to Anaheim Approved By AL Officials

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's major leagues held a joint meeting Tuesday assured that Ford Frick will remain commissioner through the 1965 season and that election of his successor will proceed in orderly fashion.

Frick, 69, announced last Wednesday he would not seek a new term and would step down from his $75,000-a-year post when his successor is named.

Following a meeting of the major league Executive Council Frick agreed, however, to stay on the job through the 1965 World Series.

The council decision to ask Frick to remain and his acceptance figures to shut off any unauthorized speculation as to the identity of the next baseball czar.

Prepares Report

A committee consisting of Frick and Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American League will prepare a report on the functions of the job "in the light of changing times."

Until that report is presented, at the December baseball meeting, nobody is authorized to screen any candidates for the position.

Top candidates for the job at present are Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, legal counsel of the Players Association; Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., former Vice President Richard Nixon, and Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White and Cronin.

Neither the American nor National League meetings Monday provided announcements of any magnitude.

Move Approved

The American League approved the Los Angeles Angels' move to Anaheim, Calif., beginning in 1966. The action was a formality since Angel President Bob Reynolds signed a 35-year lease last Saturday for the club to play in a new stadium to be built about 25 miles from Chav- ez Ravine.

Giants Drop 3 Games Behind Phils After 2-1 Loss to Cards

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Life with the San Francisco Giants certainly hasn't been a bowl of cherries recently.

The latest problem, however, concerns some missing strawberries.

Neither Tom Haller nor Orlando Cepeda bore that mark of a sliding base runner as both were thrown out at home plate trying to score standing up in the Giants' 2-1 loss at St. Louis Monday night.

The defeat dropped the Giants three games behind National League leading Philadelphia Phillies and left San Francisco Manager Al Dark in an awkward position.

Immediately after the game, Dark, who has been under fire, was asked if there would be any fines.

"I never announce fines," he said softly, apparently trying to restrain his anger. "That would have to come from somebody else. You saw the same game I did."

Here's what everyone saw: In the fifth, with the Giants trailing 2-0, Haller led off with a single. Two outs later, Harvey Kuehn singled him to second. Hal Lanier then popped a single to right. Haller lumbering to the plate to find catcher Tim McCarver holding Mike Shannon's leg.

'Better Goalie'
The Giants pulled to within one run in the seventh on Jim Ray Hart's homer and mounted another threat in the eighth when Cepeda and Hart singled with two out. Haller then singled to left field and Cepeda came barreling home from second.

This time McCarver was waiting with Lou Brock's peg. "We just had the better goalie," cracked Cardinal pitcher Ray Sadecki. "He kept the puck out of the net."

Ron Herbel, the Giants starter, did the same after the first two innings, but it was too late. The Cardinals scored in the first when Brock beat out a bunt, raced to third on Herbel's wild pickoff attempt and scored on Bill White's single. They added two more runs in the second.

Three Returnees Slated for Duties On Defensive Unit

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY—The Packers' five College All-Stars reported for active professional football duty Monday. . . and three of them wound up on defense, including first draft choice Lloyd Voss who originally was ticketed for the offensive line.

Voss, one of two University of Nebraska players in the group, was stationed at defensive right end while his college teammate, Dennis Claridge, stepped in as the third quarterback behind Bart Starr and Zeke Bratkowski.

Ken Bowman, the Wisconsin Center, is located at that position in competition with veteran Bob Skoronski and rookie Turney Todd who was switched over from linebacker.

With the departure of six rookies on waivers Monday, one switch was made. Tom Brown, who had been working as a flanker, was moved to right corner on defense.

Five All-Stars Return To Packers; O'Grady Taken Off Waiver List

The squad was reduced to 48 players Monday with the waivering of center Dave Crossan, defense backs Joe Scarpati, Larry Hunter and Beau Carter, and ends Gary Kroner and Tom O'Grady.

However, today the figure went up to 49 when Coach Vince Lombardi announced that waivers had been recalled on O'Grady, the end from Northwest.

Voss had the job of keeping out the Bears' big Doug Atkins (6-8 and 280) in the All-Star game. . . and, like Lloyd said: "He went by me like a shot a couple of times and once he knocked me over and my feet went straight up in the air. His arms are so long it's hard to get at him."

While Voss had his problems with Atkins, Lloyd still felt "We should have won. If we could have scored down there from the 4-yard line late in the game it might have been different. They (the Bears) were good but we had a good chance to beat them."

First Time in Career
Voss is playing defensive end for the first time in his career. He has worked at offensive and defensive tackle at Nebraska. The Bays now have eight defensive linemen — Dave Haner, Hank Jordan, Willie Davis, Lionel Aldridge, Urban Henry, Ron Kostelnik and John Baker.

The Packers are getting ready this week for the Bishop's Charities game vs. the Giants in City stadium Saturday night.

Bob Skoronski, making his debut at center, didn't have a mis-snap all night against the Cardinals at New Orleans. . . he had 52 snaps to the quarterback and others for five punts, one field goal and one point after.

"Maybe that's too good a start," Bob laughed yesterday. "now I have to live up to it."

Bob Long, the Packers' rookie receiver from Wichita, found his pro baptism rather interesting.

"This was only my eighth football game," said Long, "and I looked over at Bean one time and said 'what am I doing here' But I can catch the ball okay but there are so many things to learn."

Long is the basketball star who went out for football as a senior at Wichita and made such a hit as a cruder the Packers drafted him No. 4.

Spahn to Open Against Colts

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn leaves the bullpen for his first start since July 26 tonight when the Braves open a two-game series with the Houston Colts.

Encountering the worst season of his brilliant career, the 43-year-old Spahn, an 11-game loser, will be shooting for his seventh victory while escaping the confines of the bullpen.

Spahn, who has a fat 5.34 earned run average, was removed from a starting role after he was shelled by the Mets in New York. He has been used sparingly as a reliever.

The appearance will be the 703rd of Spahn's career. He needs only four more to move ahead of Early Wynn as the third most active pitcher in baseball history.

In addition, Spahn also will be seeking to add to his career strikeout total. He needs to fan only 27 more batters to top the National League record of 2,505 held by Christy Mathewson.

The Colts, who have won nine of 13 games with the Braves this season, named Ken Johnson to oppose Spahn. Johnson has won eight and lost 11, including a no-hitter against Cincinnati earlier this year.

3 Giants to Miss Game in Green Bay

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — The New York Giants said Monday flanker back Frank Gifford and ends Del Shofner and Aaron Thomas are sidelined with pulled leg muscles.

Each is likely to miss Saturday's National Football League exhibition game against the Green Bay Packers. The three suffered the injuries in Saturday's game with the Minnesota Vikings.

Braves Brass Continues Double Talk on Atlanta Shift at League Meeting

Giles Tried to Pin Owners Down, but Is Not Successful

CHICAGO (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves may be inconsistent on the field, but not in the front office. The brass is continuing its double talk on whether the club will be moved from Milwaukee.

National League President Warren Giles heard the double talk routine Monday when he tried to pin down the Braves on whether they plan to shift to Atlanta next season.

Asked by Giles at a league meeting whether the Braves desired to request permission to transfer the franchise, Milwaukee board chairman Bill Bartholomay replied "No."

"Unable to Evaluate"
Giles persisted, asking if the Milwaukee club "has been, or is now considering, the possibility of a transfer."

"Because of the many factors to be considered, we are unable to evaluate fully our position until a later date," Bartholomay said in reiterating a statement first made last month.

The Braves have passed the 700,000 mark in home attendance in 52 dates. Despite their second division status, the Braves may draw more than one million this year.

Giles said the Milwaukee "matter" was not on the agenda. However, he asked that it be discussed "because of its importance and the wide publicity."

Joining with Bartholomay in refusing to confirm or deny persistent rumors that the Braves are headed for Atlanta were club president John McHale and executive vice president Tom Reynolds.

Asked for his interpretation of the Braves' statement, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said:

"It doesn't preclude the possibility of their moving. They were given the opportunity of expressing their intentions and they didn't do it. What the situation is right now, I have no idea."

Freedom, LC-K Meet Thursday In Playoff Tilt

Will Decide Second-Round Championship

TWO RIVERS—Freedom and Little Chute-Kimberly will clash at 8 p.m. Thursday on the Kimberly diamond in a playoff for second round honors in the Fox River Valley Baseball League.

Both teams finished the second round with 6-1 records. Team representatives and league officials set the playoff date at a meeting here Monday night.

LC-K won the first round title in the league and a victory Thursday night would give the Papermakers the loop championship outright.

However, if Freedom wins, 3-game playoff would follow to settle the league crown. Each team has won once in two meetings between the clubs during the regular season.

Should the 3-game playoff be necessary, the first contest would be Aug. 23 at Kimberly and the rain date would be Aug. 25. The second game would be Aug. 30 at Freedom and the third game, if necessary, would be Sept. 6 at Freedom.

It was announced that three players who were with the LC-K team in the state semi-tournament at Milwaukee last week have been invited to join the championship Milwaukee Falk Corporation squad to Wichita, Kan. for the national tourney. They are Jim Vande Wettering and Larry Huebner of Freedom and Rog Vander West of the Papermakers. The Falk team leaves Saturday for the meet.

Caria Hurls 2-Hitter, Giving Foxes Split

Fox Cities' Lead Now Three Games

QUINCY, Ill. — Steve Caria fired a 2-hitter, and John Matias and Steve Huntz homered as the Fox Cities Foxes won the second game of a twin bill here Monday night, 10-1, after a 6-5 loss to Quincy in the lid-lifter. Both games went seven innings.

Foxes' hurlers limited the Gems to four hits in the first game but three of the hits were home runs. The Foxes' Midwest league lead dropped to three games over Quad Cities. The Angels edged Dubuque, 6-5.

The only run off Caria, who made his first start since a lengthy injury — caused layoff, was unearned. He fanned five and walked five in notching his eighth win in 15 decisions. Henry King faced one man in the opener and was charged with his sixth loss against seven wins.

Tonight, the Foxes wind up their road trip with a game against the Gems. Wednesday night, they return to Goodland Field for a doubleheader with Burlington.

Dave May survived on an error in the first inning of the nightcap with two out. Fred Rico singled him to third, and he scored on a wild pitch.

Hits 2-Run Homer
Caria, slightly wild at the start, walked Ed Moxey. Don Dillard and Glenn Mattison to open the Quincy first. Foxes' catcher John Burrows attempted to nail Moxey, who was leading off third, but the throw injured third sacker Stan Walters and Moxey scored on the error.

John Matias' 2-run homer in the third gave the Foxes a 4-1 lead. Bob Lewandowski preceded the Matias clout with a triple. Steve Huntz highlighted the 5-run seventh inning with a 2-run shot over the right-center field fence after Dave May had singled.

McPeak Picks Redskins To Win Eastern Crown

Washington Coach Depends Largely on Sonny Jurgensen

BY JACK HAND
CARLSLE, Pa. (AP) — Bill McPeak breaks all the rules for football coaches. He steps right out front and says he thinks his Washington Redskins are going to win.

"If we can keep our quarterback in one piece, we can take it all," said the coach-general manager of the 'Skins at the training base at Dickinson College. "I don't know how good he was until we got him."

First of a Series

McPeak was talking about Sonny Jurgensen, the quarterback he got from Philadelphia in a trade for Norm Snead, his former protege. At the moment, Jurgy can walk on water as far as McPeak is concerned.

Of course, walking is all Jurgy can do at the moment, since he is out for some 10 days with an injured knee, but the quarterback is expected to be fit for the opener on Sept. 13 against the tough Browns.

"I think the Eastern Conference will be a hodge podge," said McPeak. "New York lost three regulars on defense. Pittsburgh hasn't improved. St. Louis has lost Bill Triplett because of sickness and Don Owens retired so they have to count on Ken Kortas, a rookie. Cleveland has problems in its secondary. Dallas has its usual flashy offense but they didn't help themselves on defense."

What makes Jurgensen such a superior passer?

Ball Sings
"He gets rid of the ball," said McPeak. "The ball sings. He has tremendous ability at spotting the second and third receiver, and has a fine knowledge of pass defense. He's a player-coach on the field, like Y.A. Tittle and Johnny Unitas.

"We had a lucky winter. I can feel it in the air."

McPeak counts on Sam Huff, the ex-New York Giant, to steady his defense just as he expects Jurgensen to lead the offense.

"We've never had a linebacker like Huff," said McPeak. "Sam is full of vinegar and he wants to do well. He was pleasantly surprised at the caliber of our defensive line."

The Skins' attack will hinge on Jurgensen's passes, primarily to flanker Bobby Mitchell and Angelo Coia, the speedy new split and acquired from the Chicago Bears.

The running game depends on Charley Taylor of Arizona State, who wasn't able to join the club until this week because of the College All-Star game.

"We are basing our hopes of a better running game on Taylor," said McPeak.

Tom (The Bomb) Tracy, trimmed down to 190 pounds, Billy Barnes and Don Bosseler are available. McPeak liked what he saw of rookie Dick Drummond in early camp. The fullback position is a scramble among Bosseler, Dave Francis, J.W. Lockett and rookie Gene Donaldson from Purdue.

Offensive Line
The offensive line of tackles Riley Mattson and Frank O'Brien, guards Vince Promuto and John Nisby and center Fred Hageman is intact, with rookie Len Hauss of Georgia pushing Hageman. There are no solid reserves.

McPeak's big job has been to shore up the deep defense. The front four of John Paluck, Bob Tonnef, Joe Rutgens and Ron Snidow is solid but the linebacking, except for Huff, is fluid.

Bob Pellegrini and Rod Breedlove may wind up at the corners.

Johnny Sample and Lonnie Sanders are set at the corners but the safety jobs are up for grabs. Jim Steffen probably will play one but rookie Paul Krause of Iowa, who lost valuable time with the College All-Stars, must come through at the other safety.

The first all star tilt saw the Stars take a 17-7 win with Pat Brautigan taking the loss and Carl Haack the win. Haack led the hitters with four hits, including two doubles. Dan Egan and Don Heindel each rapped two hits for the Stars, while Jon Pendleton tripled and doubled for the winners.

Goldwater Takes Step Toward Unity

Paraphrase of Remark On 'Extremism Shows Party Support Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican Senators see in Sen. Barry Goldwater's explanation of his words on extremism a step toward party unity for the presidential campaign.

"This is a step consistent with making it possible for all groups in the party to support him," Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire said Monday of the GOP presidential nominee.

"This conciliatory attitude is more important than the statement itself."

Goldwater offered his explanation in a letter to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. In it, the Arizona senator said what he intended to convey with his acceptance speech declaration that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice . . . moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Goldwater said he would paraphrase those remarks to read "wholehearted devotion to liberty is unassailable and . . . half-hearted devotion to justice is indefensible."

Cotton called the explanation "a good symptom that Barry is beginning to accept the responsibilities of a nominated candidate."

Goldwater carries his effort to unify his party to Hershey, Pa., Wednesday for a summit meeting of Republican leaders.

Goldwater called the meeting. Others scheduled to attend include Goldwater's vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

A morning business session will be closed with participation limited to 38 GOP party leaders, including 14 governors and the same number of gubernatorial candidates.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who bitterly fought Goldwater for the presidential nomination at last month's GOP convention, is host for the meeting, although his duties are nominal.

Pope Paul Sets Precedent in Copter Flight

Trip to Orvieto Longest Since Holy Land Journey

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Paul VI sets a papal precedent today when he flies by helicopter from his summer residence to a religious commemoration at the Umbrian Hill town of Orvieto.

The 75-mile trip northward to the ancient cathedral town will be the first flight a pontiff has ever made by helicopter.

It also will be the longest trip Pope Paul has taken since he went to the Holy Land by jet plane last January.

The papal schedule in Orvieto included Mass marking the 700th anniversary of the start of the annual Corpus Christi feast day and a speech before he returns tonight to Castel Gandolfo.

The Italian Air Force supplied the big helicopter for the flight.

MAJOR DOCUMENT

It comes one day after a major papal document saying Roman Catholicism will try for dialogue with all aspects of the modern world.

In his encyclical "Ecclesiam Suam," Pope Paul said Monday the paths of church consciousness of itself, church reform and church openness to the world lay before contemporary Catholicism.

Against a background of war threats in Cyprus and Viet Nam, the pontiff said in his encyclical he would be "ready to intervene, where an opportunity presents itself, in order to assist the contending parties to find honorable and fraternal solutions for their disputes."

Papal Flags

Flags and bunting of papal white and gold hung from Orvieto's windows and walls to welcome the pontiff.

The cathedral is an outstanding example of Italian gothic style. Tradition has it that the building was started in 1285 at the request of Pope Urban IV to commemorate the "miracle of Bolsena."

Legend says that at nearby Bolsena in 1263, drops of blood miraculously appeared on an altar cloth before a priest who doubted the Church's teaching that the body and blood of Christ are really present in the bread and wine of the Eucharist.

Military Funeral For Winner of Medal of Honor

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Full military honors were scheduled today for the burial of Medal of Honor holder William G. Harrell, an amputee whom officials say killed two friends and then shot himself.

The bodies of Harrell, 42, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zumwalt, 59 and 43, respectively, were found at the Harrell home by Mrs. Harrell and their two children as they returned from a trip to New York.

Investigators had not found a motive for the shooting.

Harrell lost his hands during a battle with Japanese on Iwo Jima but became adept at using hook-like mechanical hands.

Mrs. Goldwater in Clinic for Checkup

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Barry Goldwater, wife of the Republican candidate for president, is in Scripps Clinic.

A spokesman said Mrs. Goldwater entered the clinic Sunday for a medical checkup. The clinic wouldn't release any further information.

Harvard Man To Head New Department

Effectiveness of Law Enforcement To be Reviewed

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has announced that an Office of Criminal Justice will be established within the U. S. Department of Justice to make a critical review of the fairness and effectiveness of federal law enforcement.

Vorenberg He says the office will help "insure that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is in fact the Department of Justice."

Kennedy disclosed the plan Monday in a speech to the criminal law section of the American Bar Association on the opening day of the association's annual meeting.

The attorney general named Prof. James Vorenberg, 36, of Harvard Law School as the first head of the new office.

Vorenberg is working on a criminal law study for the American Law Institute.

In addition to the new office, Kennedy suggested creation of a commission to study law enforcement all over the country.

Kennedy did not give details on the duties of Vorenberg and his staff. Included in their general assignment will be improving the handling of such matters as federal arrests, providing counsel for the poor and psychiatric examination of prisoners.

Rockefeller to Attend

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who at first opposed Goldwater for the nomination then withdrew in favor of Scranton, also plans to attend.

Earl D. Eisenhower Jr., of Washington, a nephew of the former president, said the meeting was called "to plan campaign strategy." Others taking part will be R. Dean Burch, Republican national chairman; John Grenier, executive director of the National GOP Committee; Wayne J. Hood, campaign field director; Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., chairman of the Senate GOP campaign committee, and Rep. Robert Wilson, R-Calif., chairman of the House GOP campaign committee.

Governors Meet With Senators About Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors of 12 Midwest states meet today with House members from that region to pursue a drive for a greater share of government contracts.

The governors had a similar meeting with senators from the Midwest on July 24 at which the initial strategy was planned.

Formal plans to organize the group are expected to be taken at the Midwest Governors Conference in Minneapolis Sept. 9.

Gov. Frank Morrison of Nebraska, chairman of the confederence, presided over the previous meeting and aided in setting up today's session with house members from the same states.

Gov. John W. Reynolds is among those attending.

Most of the governors who attended the July session with the senators met the same day with President Johnson at the White House to discuss government contracts and other matters.

Johnson was reported at that time to have given encouragement to the group in their campaign for more government contracts for their states.

The Midwest group contends that the region is not getting its share of the billions of dollars being spent annually by the government in defense, research and development contracts.

Formal plans to organize the group are expected to be taken at the Midwest Governors Conference in Minneapolis Sept. 9.

Gov. Frank Morrison of Nebraska, chairman of the confederence, presided over the previous meeting and aided in setting up today's session with house members from the same states.

Gov. John W. Reynolds is among those attending.

Most of the governors who attended the July session with the senators met the same day with President Johnson at the White House to discuss government contracts and other matters.

Johnson was reported at that time to have given encouragement to the group in their campaign for more government contracts for their states.

The Midwest group contends that the region is not getting its share of the billions of dollars being spent annually by the government in defense, research and development contracts.

Showdown Imminent Between Civil Rights Forces, Cafe Owner

BY MIKE BARRON

ATLANTA (AP)—The stage is set today for a possible showdown between civil rights forces and an adamant Atlanta restaurant owner who was denied more time before he must begin serving Negroes under the new Civil Rights Act.

In Washington Monday, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black turned down requests by the restaurant owner and an Atlanta motel for an order staying effectiveness of a decision that the act's public accommodations section is constitutional. These were the first court tests of the act.

Memorandum Issued

In a three-page memorandum issued in connection with his refusal, Black said, "A judicial restraint of the enforcement of one of the most important sections of the Civil Rights Act would, in my judgment, be unjustifiable."

This left segregationist Lester Maddox, who says his Pickrick Restaurant positively will not integrate, faced with the possibility of closing the restaurant in the face of expected further integration attempts.

On the other hand, Moreton Rolleston, head of the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp., said he would comply with the court order.

"We will never integrate," Maddox said. "Pickrick will lock my doors, lock them to-night and not open up tomorrow; sell my business; or I can turn it into a private club if I want to face my conscience after surrendering to this tyranny I am faced with and my country is faced with."

Rolleston said: "We will obey the court's order and the order of any other court that is issued."

Senate Proposal

Agreement Near on Bill For Re-Apportionment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are reported near agreement on a compromise proposal that would direct, but not compel, courts to order reapportionment of state legislatures on a population basis.

The compromise would substitute for a proposal by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to stay all court-ordered reapportionment until after state legislatures have had two sessions to consider the matter.

Bus Owners Charged in Three Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The owners of a Wisconsin bus that skidded and crashed near Gurnee, Ill., killing three persons and injuring 27 others, were charged in U.S. District Court Monday with criminal negligence.

The bill of criminal information accused the Wisconsin Coach Lines, Inc., of Waukegan, Wis., of operating a bus with poor tires.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Barry J. Freeman said the bus was 2,000 miles overdue for an inspection and had traveled 33,800 miles on recapped tires when it skidded and crashed into a cement bridge abutment on U.S. Highway 41 June 2.

Criminal negligence carries a penalty of a $100 to $500 fine upon conviction.

Milwaukee Firm Robbed of $1,500

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Three neatly-dressed gunmen held up the Prudential Savings and Loan Association and fled with an estimated $1,500 Monday. The men escaped in a stolen car, which was found abandoned a short time after the holdup.

Your Money's Worth

Vacation Traveling Is Smashing All Records

BY SYLVIA PORTER

We're into the peak of the 1964 vacation travel season and this year we're smashing all previous records by eye-stopping margins, easily topping even the most enthusiastic early predictions.

More than 110 million of us are expected to take vacation trips in 1964, traveling farther from home than ever before. Travel everywhere is up 10 to 20 per cent over 1963 surveys by American Express and the American Society of Travel Agents indicate.

Over 13 million of us will travel outside our borders for business or pleasure or both, and again, the rate of rise from last year is running at 20 per cent. Passports issued in 1964 alone will exceed one million and the number traveling overseas is soaring.

We'll spend far more money of course. Our spending on travel could top $20 billion, could even be billions above this milestone.

In every respect, our vacations will be longer and more liberal — reflecting our steadily increasing incomes and leisure time, the deep slashes in international air fares this past spring, the unusually large number of major tourist attractions around the world, the continuing and significant liberalization of vacation policies by U.S. corporations.

Travel Trends

Many important new vacation travel trends are underway. Among them are:

More and more of us are vacationing abroad — particularly middle-income families taking advantage of the lowered air fares.

More working husbands are taking their wives — and even children — on business trips. Special package plans are being offered to keep all members of the family busy on such combination trips.

Companies are, increasingly, staging "incentive" travel for employees. Top favorites are weekend and week-long charter flights to the New York World's Fair.

Airlines are starting to allow customers to fly on standard credit cards — at substantially lower service charges than the interest rates on previous "go now-pay later" plans.

Tents and Trailers

Rising numbers of us are traveling in trailers and sleeping under tents throughout the country at tens of thousands of popular campsites. The projection is that trailer sales will be up 14 per cent this year as a result of this trend.

The second home — for a vacation — is taking hold from coast to coast. The total of vacation homes scheduled for construction this year will be double the total built as recently as five years ago.

Basic to all these developments is the trend toward liberalization of vacation policies by U.S. employers. This movement has been going on for years, is still extremely powerful and the likelihood is that it will become even more powerful in the immediate future.

The three-week vacation is

Principals From Catholic Schools To Have Meeting

Catholic school principals from the Fox Cities and the rest of the Green Bay Diocese are scheduled to meet in Holy Family College in Manitowoc Aug. 20 and 21 for a conference on school practices.

The two-day meeting, the first of its kind, is being held to discuss possible changes in curriculum and to offer diocesan guidance in school operations.

Schools in the diocese will open Sept. 3. Most will begin the school day with the traditional Mass of the Holy Spirit.

5 Illegitimate Births in July

Five illegitimate babies were born at Appleton's two hospitals in July, according to the monthly report of the health department.

There was a noticeable decline in communicable diseases last month with German measles, mumps and chicken pox leading the list.

With only 47 cases of measles, it was evident the epidemic which gripped the Appleton area in the spring has diminished.

There were 197 births, including 97 non-resident, in Appleton in July compared to 52 deaths, 25 of them attributed to heart failure.

Marriages totaled 43, including 10 non-resident.

To Your Good Health

Several Safe Ways To Remove Facial Hair

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have the heart—MRS. A. U.

I have heard that a mixture of half peroxide and half household ammonia, adding soap flakes to form a paste, and applying to the face for 30 minutes, will bleach the hairs.

Would this be safe to try?—R. M. B.

I'm against it on the grounds that there is too much chance of irritating the skin, not to mention having to smell that ammonia at such short range.

I think you will get just as good a bleaching effect by using "20 volume" peroxide, which you can get at the drug store, without the fuss and fumes of electrolysis, which dissolves the hair at the skin line. The process has to be repeated when the hair grows out again.

For some, this is a satisfactory method. Others, however, find that depilatories irritate the skin. Finally, permanent removal of the hair by electrolysis is possible, but since each hair root has to be destroyed individually, it is a time-consuming process.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is St. Vitus Dance? What causes it? Is it curable? Does it affect the heart?—MRS. A. U.

St. Vitus Dance, or a jerky sort of movement, is a symptom which sometimes occurs with rheumatic fever. Acute rheumatic fever can be treated successfully with penicillin or sometimes with other antibiotics.

The rheumatic fever (a streptococcus infection) is extremely dangerous to the heart, since it tends to scar the valves. Early diagnosis and treatment can keep this problem at a minimum.

neys, it is to be expected that the infection will also be carried along to the bladder. On the other hand, it is possible for some bacterial infection to be present in the bladder, yet not work its way upward to the kidneys. As you might expect, one of the doctor's goals, is to prevent it from moving backward and upward to the kidneys.

So a kidney infection, generally speaking, must be regarded as more serious than a bladder infection, but both may be present at the same time, and both or either would be a "urinary infection."

Dear Sir: Is epilepsy hereditary? — D. L.

There are different types of epilepsy, and different causes. There can be a hereditary factor at times but in general there is no reason why most people with epilepsy should not have children. (There are some exceptions.)

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. (Copyright, 1964)

Utah Voters Selecting Nominees

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah voters went to the polls today to nominate candidates for senator, governor and a variety of lesser state offices.

The primary turnout was expected to approach the record 196,000 votes cast in 1956. A volatile campaign for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination was credited with sparking voter interest.

Both senatorial candidates, Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, R-Utah, and Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, call themselves conservatives. But they have differed sharply on the meaning of conservatism and questioned each other's personal qualifications.

The winner will oppose Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah. Moss had no primary opposition. Neither did the four candidates for Utah's two U.S. House of Representatives seats.

There were contests for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for governor. Gov. George D. Clyde, a Republican, is not seeking re-election.

Greek-Turk Deadlock Called Threat to Truce

BY HAL MCCLURE

(break of fighting along Cyprus' northwest coast.)

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A deadlock between Turkey and Cyprus about Greek Cypriot troop dispositions on the northwest coast today menaced the peace restored shakily under U.N. auspices.

Turkish jets maintained reconnaissance flights. Premier Ismet Inonu's Ankara administration was reported continuing military preparations to back up its demand that Greek Cypriot forces give up three Turkish Cypriot villages they have occupied since last Wednesday, and withdraw from their encirclement of the port of Kokkina.

Scouting Flights Turkey said it would send its jets on scouting missions until the U.N. troops can enforce the truce and Greek Cypriots withdraw from positions they captured in the last six days. The Turkish Air Force began its retaliation raids after the Greek Cypriots opened a drive Aug. 5 on the only remaining Turkish Cypriot coastal strip. The Cyprus government charged that Turkish troops and arms were being landed at the Turkish Cypriot fishing village of Kokkina.

Split in Government The crisis left the government of Cyprus badly split, possibly impairing the political strength of Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president. Rightists and leftists in the cabinet exchanged angry words over whether to count on Greece or the Soviet Union for help, informants said.

Both factions were disappointed by the less than wholehearted support they received from Greece and the Soviet Union. In Athens, Greek Premier George Papandreu indicated Monday night he does not look forward to a war over Cyprus with Turkey, Greece's eastern Mediterranean partner in the

Wagner Sees Kennedy in Senate Race

Would be Fine Prospect, New York Mayor Declares

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he would not consider running for U.S. senator from New York without Mayor Robert F. Wagner's "express approval."

A few minutes after Kennedy made that statement Monday, Wagner said: "If he is available, he is the type of person who would make an exceptionally fine candidate. I am sure that he would win."

"I have a high regard for him as a friend and as a public servant."

New Conference Asked whether his remarks constituted an endorsement, Wagner said:

"I think I've made a pretty strong statement already." Wagner said he would not say more until he had talked again with Kennedy. Kennedy visited Wagner last Friday. No further meeting has been announced.

The Democratic nominee will face Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

Kennedy, here Monday to speak at the convention of the American Bar Association, was asked by newsmen about the Senate race.

One of his replies was: "Under no circumstances would I ever have considered, or would I now consider, coming into the State of New York against the wishes of the mayor."

Wagner is generally considered the top Democrat in New York.

Accepts House Amendments To Speed Plan to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Johnson today the $947.5 million anti-poverty bill designed to give work to idle youth and to help low-income families get off relief.

Completing congressional action, the Senate accepted House amendments to the original Senate version even though some were disliked by sponsors of the bill. The Senate action was by voice vote.

Enactment of the bill was a major victory for Johnson who had given the legislation highest priority in the closing days of the session. It was opposed by Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

The money figures in the bill are authorizations. Congress must vote appropriations in a supplemental bill if the program is to get started this fall.

Sargent Shriver, who is expected to be named to administer the program, has estimated it should reach 600,000 persons directly in the first year and up to 7 million families through community action projects.

Before passing the bill Saturday, the House put into it what some senators called a disturbing loyalty oath and governors' provisions over some projects.

But Senate sponsors decided against making any fight over these points.

U. S. Won't Pay To Free Official Kidnaped by Reds

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. government has decided against offering money for the return of an American Aid Mission official kidnaped by the Communist guerrillas.

A spokesman said Monday an offer of a reward "would involve setting a dangerous precedent."

Missing is Joseph W. Granger, 49, of Sumter, S.C., who was captured Saturday with his Filipino technical assistant and a Vietnamese plantation manager in a coastal valley 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

Granger is the first U.S. civilian official to be captured by the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Considers Direct Sales

Nikita Seeks to Speed Farm Produce to Cities

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev disclosed today that he is thinking of eliminating some middlemen to get fresh agricultural produce to the cities.

In a talk with farm officials of the Tatar Republic in the Crimea, Khrushchev said the Kremlin may let truck farmers go into business for themselves and sell their produce in their own shops.

"The farm will supply vegetables directly from the field or store. Of course, the collective farms will sell vegetables and potatoes at prices set by the state," he said.

Khrushchev indicated the producer-to-consumer method might solve the problem of supplying cities with fresh pro-

Most large Soviet cities are plagued with shortages of fresh fruits and vegetables caused by inefficient distribution.

The Soviet press frequently complains about shortages. One of fresh vegetables had driven

ing for a receiving point to accept his cargo.

"At the present time nobody calculates the demand for vegetables," said Khrushchev.

Khrushchev warned collective and state farm directors against price gouging. He said prices in the farmers' shops would probably be a little lower than in ordinary stores because the cost of middlemen's services would be eliminated.

Chilton School's Classroom Usage At Full Capacity

497 Enrollment Space Will be Filled; Teachers' Time Is Full

CHILTON — Use of classroom facilities at Chilton's public school has reached capacity, the school board was told Monday night.

John Sandberg, high school principal, while reporting to the board on space and curriculum situations, said the 497 enrollment space will be filled.

An increased enrollment or expanded curriculum will necessitate finding more room for the students, Sandberg said.

Library Inadequate

Teacher loads in all fields have reached capacity and he recommended the hiring of one part-time teacher. The teacher will instruct one section each of general mathematics and algebra and have two study halls.

Supt. A. W. Gordon told the board the present library is inadequate. It was built for half of the present enrollment and more facilities are needed, he explained.

Architects are now working on a proposed plan for future expansion above the old gym located in the center of the present plant, he told the board.

Sandberg, in explaining some curriculum problems, said typing classes are full. Sophomores who have signed up for the course will be unable to take the class.

These students, however, can take personal typing during night course offerings or during the summer, he said.

Teachers Are Busy

Each high school teacher, he explained, has a full six hours plus one hour preparation time.

With the unavailability of substitute teachers, Sandberg said, he would have to take over some of the duties of teaching in emergency situations.

In explaining the facility problem, Sandberg said, the laboratory for chemistry and biology is filled all seven hours of the day with two chemistry classes and five biology sections.

General science and physics also occupy a laboratory for an entire day. Two physics sections and five general science classes take that laboratory, he explained.

The English loads range from 100 to 116 students per teacher, he said. Study hall occupancy ranges from 35 to 83, he explained.

Take Bids for Attorney Post Until Sept. 1

Mitchell to Make Appointment After Consulting Bar Unit

Mayor Clarence Mitchell said today he will receive applications for the newly-created position of part-time assistant city attorney until Sept. 1.

The city council, at its last meeting, instructed the welfare ordinance committee to prepare an ordinance establishing the post which will pay $3,600 a year.

Mitchell said he already had received one application from a woman attorney.

He said he will ask the Outagamie County Bar Association to help screen applicants. He will then make the appointment from those certified by the association. The appointment will have to be confirmed by the council.

The person selected will serve until May 1, 1966, or whenever the position of city attorney is made full time, whichever comes first.

Frederick E. Froehlich is the city's elected part-time city attorney at $6,900 a year. His second term began May 1. The city has also hired attorney Robert Sundby of Madison as part-time legal counsel on labor matters.

Duties of Froehlich's part-time assistant have not been determined.

Work of Craftsmen

'The Glass Menagerie' Splendidly Performed

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

Glass is made of molten sand, gathered on a pipe and blown to a pre-determined thickness. If the glass is drawn out fine and given extra temper, there appears in it swirls of delicate colors to heighten the beauty of the handiwork.

The Altic Theatre's production of "The Glass Menagerie" is the work of master craftsmen in the manner of the Venetians. It is a taut bauble that rings clear and true and in its solid brightness there appear and disappear hues and touches of tints and colors to dazzle and delight.

In this early piece of writing, Tennessee Williams plumbed depths and scaled heights of human truths and emotions that he has never reached again. Director Don Jones and his splendid four-person cast caught every nuance which the master playwright lent his masterwork.

Narrator Assignment

Although Tom the son has the narrator assignment, "The Glass Menagerie" is the mother's play in its original appearance the work gave a rebirth to a faded, but great actress.

In the Altic production the mother's role serves as one of the most auspicious debuts the Experimental Theater in the Music-Drama Center has ever seen.

Mary Agnes Truttschel is, in a word, superb — a rare piece of peach bloom satin glass, as they did Saturday.

The theater will be dark tonight, with a deceptively softer light, with a deceptively softer surface hiding unshakable strength.

Working with her are three actors with considerable experience and she meets their challenge head on.

Adds To Success

There is no doubt that the experience of these three added considerably to the success of the play and her debut.

Tom McGuire turned in a kind of job audiences have come to expect of him and his "son" was a perfect foil of realism for the "mother's" sentimentality.

Betty Bradford, one of Lawrence's prides, also was superb as the painfully bashful daughter and Ken Captain in all of his clean-cut exuberance made a fine gentleman caller.

Phil Dixon, the production stage manager, also met the challenge of transforming Williams' memory play into the round. His use of pencil lights and the co-ordination of music and sound gave added dimension to the arena format.

Intrinsic Humor

Jones' pacing of the piece also was a great assist, giving the flowing moods moment and even exercising the play's intrinsic humor — at least for the theatergoers of the Fox Cities failed to meet this moment.

This production of "The Glass Menagerie" demonstrates the maturity of the Altic organization and enhances its reputation. It would be a shame if the theatergoers of the Fox Cities failed to meet this moment.

One Injured in Three Crashes

16-Year-Old Youth Hurt in Accident In Calumet County

CHILTON — One injury was reported in three weekend accidents in Calumet County.

Robert Heimerman, 16, 349 Cleveland St., Neenah, suffered nose and face cuts when a car in which he was riding went out of control and struck a utility pole.

Michael J. Kettenhofer, 16, 402 Seventh St., Neenah, driver of the car, told county police he was heading west on a town road, 2½ miles southeast of Appleton, at 11:10 p. m. Saturday when he lost control rounding a curve and overturned.

Escapes Injury

John G. Kraus, 19, 506 Water St., Chilton, escaped injury when a car he was driving went out of control while traveling north on State 57, 2½ miles south of Hilbert, and struck a utility pole.

Kraus told county police he lost control of the car as he was attempting to pass a truck driven by Christen Bureta, 49, Fremont.

Allen W. Chvala, 20, route 1, Maribel, lost control of a car he was driving at 1 a. m. Sunday, on State 114, 1½ miles south of Brillion, and struck a utility pole.

Chvala said he swerved to avoid hitting a cat which was crossing the road and went into the ditch and smashed into the pole.

Damage in each of the mishaps was estimated at more than $100.

Injuries Listed

Miller's injuries include a broken right ear drum, a fractured right hand and a broken pelvis.

After the fight Miller was taken to the Waupaca County sheriff's office. Sheriff Loran Frazier called a doctor and had Miller taken to the hospital.

Disorderly conduct charges may be filed against Miller, police said.

Lucky Lightning Hits Man Twice

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It's a pretty sure bet that few people enjoyed the 1964 Penny Royal Fair as much as Jack Brown.

During the fair, Brown's name was drawn in a lottery and he won $1,000. Two nights later, he won another drawing — this time for a new car.

Soviet Union Tries To Clear Way for World Reds' Parley

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has issued a call for a Dec. 15 conference to prepare for a meeting of the world Communist movement next summer. Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, announced today.

The preparatory meeting of 26 Communist parties would proceed even if the Chinese Communists carry out their threat to boycott it, Pravda said.

Pravda dismissed Chinese objections that a world party conference would be illegal without their participation.

Peking has warned that a Soviet showdown meeting on the Sino-viet-Chinese dispute would result in a final split of the movement.

Pravda accused the Chinese of employing blackmail and added: "But after all, it is precisely a refusal to participate in the conference that would signify a desire to 'formalize' a split."

ISLE ROYALE — The weather has closed in and we have lost our comrades. There is a likelihood, an unpleasant one, they will spend the night in the woods without food or shelter or sleeping bags. Those of us who remain at McCargo Cove are worried for their comfort if not for their safety.

They marched off — five of them — to study an ancient mine and to search for artifacts which will help us in our quest to determine the identity of the mysterious people who mined three boats to a rendezvous some 15 miles away to pick up our friends. Obviously all the food and all the camping gear was to be transported by boat, leaving our comrades unladen to walk the tough forest trails.

An hour after their departure we were chased from our diving duties by high winds and hard rains. Our foursome ran for shelter.

When the rains stopped, we headed out of our protected cove and into a flamboyantly wild Lake Superior Hitchcock ran out of the cove first. I followed, with Wiegand serving as first mate; and Jones brought up the rear.

Great Waves

In moments, great waves smashed at us. Hitchcock made a despairing circle and headed back. I turned our craft into the wind and three breakers hit us such blows we literally danced out of the water. Ten such waves would have smashed us out of commission.

As I made my turn, Jones turned too and we ran hard for the lee of the land. Gratefully we ran to safety and we were committed by good sense to remain there for the night.

Now far away, our comrades who are deep in the forest may not yet be aware of the 39 mile an hour winds. If however, they reach the top of a ridge and hear the aspens crying "fshhhhhhhhh" they will know and they will turn back.

Pretty Cool

But it is dusk as I write this and we have all but given up hope of rescuing them from a very cold night of discomfort. At any rate for tonight. Soon the woods will be too dark for walking down the dim trails and we know they will elect to try to make a night of it. The temperature is 30 below.

School District Costs Listed at Waupaca

Board Okay Of $824,000 List Expected

WAUPACA—A proposed $824,000 budget—an increase of $30,422 and possibly requiring a "slight" tax rate jump—will be presented at a public hearing at 8 p. m. today in the high school.

Following the hearing, the Waupaca Unified School District Board of Education is expected to approve the budget at its regular meeting at 8:30 p. m.

In a letter to be presented at the board meeting, the board will be informed the district can expect about $265,000 in state aid for the coming term.

Sale of Buildings

Supt. George Hendricks is expected to report on the sale of the Scandinavia High School and Maple Grove School buildings. For the high school, the board will share slightly in the $2,550 sale price with the Iola-Scandinavia school district. For the grade school, the board will receive two-thirds of the $1,123 revenue and the Baldwin Mills District the balance.

A report also is expected on blacktopping of the basketball courts of Riverside and Westwood Schools.

Also expected at the meeting is awarding of contracts for gasoline, fuel oil and coal; acceptance of the resignation of Sharon Swanson Jones, high school English and speech teacher, deciding on an official depository for the school year; deciding on an official depository for the school year; determining salaries of non-teaching employees, and discussion on a walk-in cooler for the cafeteria and purchase of glass for Riverside and Westwood schools.

Also expected is the appointment of one board member as representative to the board of control of the Co-operative Educational Service Agency. The agency is being created to replace and assume the duties of the county superintendent of schools.

Each school district will have a representative of the board of control.

Suspicion of Theft

Father of Little Girl Who Stayed In Jail Being Held on Texas Charge

Father of a three-year-old released from the county jail in lieu of $25 fine. Again she asked and was granted permission to have her daughter remain with her.

Returned to Jail

Sheriff Lts. Jack Zuelzke and Russell Bowers found Hernandez at the work camp and returned him to the county jail. Extradition process will begin this afternoon, Spice said.

Mrs. Hernandez two weeks ago was charged with driving a car without a valid driver's license. The car she had been driving in Shuon was involved in an accident which injured her husband and two companions.

When Mrs. Hernandez could not post bond for the traffic offense, she asked that her daughter be allowed to remain in her cell.

Admits Charge

Mrs. Hernandez pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 12 days in the county jail in lieu of $25 fine. Again she asked and was granted permission to have her daughter remain with her.

County Judge Gustave Keller when he learned the child was staying in a cell, ordered the woman placed on probation. She was given a job in the work camp as a cook.

Meanwhile, Reuben has been convalescing in a hospital. He was slated for further treatment at a Madison hospital this week. Sunday he was granted permission to leave the hospital for a visit with friends.

Spice said newspaper accounts of the 3-year-old child's stay in the county jail were published in Brownsville, Texas, and authorities there recognized Hernandez as the same Reuben Hernandez for whom they hold a warrant.

British Labor Leader Injured

Wilson, who was vacationing in the Scilly Islands, slipped and fell while clambering among the seaside rocks.

Collectors Items May Help to Mint New Silver Dollars

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Two old coin presses in museums may be used to help mint silver dollars.

Calumet County Board To Consider Proposal On Bridge Cost Split

Highway Committee to Present Resolution at Meeting Today

CHILTON — A resolution to limit the cost of bridge and culvert approaches will be presented to the Calumet County Board during the August adjourned session today.

Highway Committee Chairman Wilmer Struebing, Town of Brillion, will present the proposal. The change would equalize the cost of the approaches, Struebing said.

On bridge and culvert projects costing up to $400, the township presently pays the first $200 and the county the remainder out of its highway aid fund. Costs are split equally on projects over $400.

Advocates New Housing Law For Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Mathias F. Schimenz, chairman of the State Industrial Commission, said Sunday Wisconsin should enact an "adequate and fair" housing law eliminating discriminatory practices.

Appearing on a television program, "The Open Question" on WTMT-TV, Schimenz pointed out that the commission has assumed authority in the field of housing. But he said, I still would advise any groups to proceed and get on the books an adequate and fair housing law.

The present law gives the commission authority to investigate discrimination in housing, education, welfare and recreation but another law provides that the discrimination must relate to employment. Schimenz said the fair employment practices division has investigated a case, involving an unidentified Negro couple, that may provide a court test of the commission's authority.

Law Library Amount

A total of $1,000 was appropriated for the law library in the 1964 budget. State law permits a circuit judge to disperse $1,500 for the account. An additional $1,000 for the remainder of the year will be asked.

A proposal to increase the annual appropriation for this account from $1,000 to $1,500 will also be made.

A new county nurse will be needed, although this item has not been listed on the agenda. Mrs. Lois Wilcox, who has served as county nurse for the past five years, resigned last week effective Sept. 1.

CHILTON—Classes at the public school here will begin Aug. 31, according to Supt. A. W. Gordon.

Teacher in-service training will begin Aug. 24 with the full staff of 45 teachers reporting for a week of orientation and preparation work.

Included in the in-service training will be a session on school policies and routines conducted by Gordon.

Also on the training schedule will be production of audio visual aids, a speaker on mental health and how it is applicable to the classroom and an outline of what is expected from the teachers by School Board Clerk A. W. Larson.

Pick Up Schedules
The morning of Aug. 28, freshmen will come for schedule arrangements. New students will attend classes to become familiar with the school and its policies.

In addition to the general in-service training high school principal John Sandberg and grade school principal George Herrmann will conduct sessions to familiarize new teachers.

A full complement of teachers was achieved last week with the hiring of three new teachers. James Henderson, Spalding, Mich., was retained to teach eighth grade. He was graduated from Northern Michigan University with bachelor and master degrees.

Enrollment
Joanne Mc Kegney, New Lisbon, a graduate of Juneau County Teacher's College, will teach third grade. James Eisner, Sheboygan, a 1964 graduate of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh will teach history and serve as assistant track coach.

Enrollment for the coming year is expected to reach 952, including kindergarten. Elementary enrollment will be 455 as compared to 497 in the high school, Gordon said. School will open officially for all students at 8:10 a.m. Aug. 31 and will continue for seven periods to 3:30 p.m. Gordon said the cafeteria will be open Aug. 31.

Defense Education Funds

Chilton School Board Votes $2,541 For Science, Language Programs

CHILTON — An expenditure of $2,541 in National Defense Education Act funds for language, science and mathematics programs was approved Monday night by the board of education.

Material purchased with the funds will be used to supply the language laboratory, and for science and mathematics departments.

The expenditure is tentative pending federal approval of the list.

The board also voted to spend $500 for sodding the new portion of the playground instead of seeding.

Expert Advice
Arthur Horst, newest member of the board and a turf authority recommended the sod because of the time left before the fall frosts.

It would have cost an estimated $2,600 for seeding and $3,150 was estimated for sod.

A. W. Larson, board clerk, was appointed by the board to serve on the board of control of the Co-operative Service Agency.

Replaces Superintendent
The agency, recently established by state law, will replace the present county superintendent of schools.

Although the area in which Chilton is to be included has not yet been determined, one member of each school board is to be appointed pending formation of the area districts.

Insurance Plan
The board voted to retain the present insurance plan coverage. The plan includes:

- Payment according to schedule of allowances up to a maximum of $500 physical and $100 dental.
- Catastrophic athletic coverage up to $10,000.

Sale Brings Need For Extra Police

Hortonville Board Okays Added Protection; Revives Permits

HORTONVILLE — The village board Thursday ordered extra policemen to be on duty during the Sidewalk Sale Aug. 21 and 22. The board authorized police chief Doug Jones to hire extra help.

The board discussed an ordinance that prohibits peddlers in the village without a permit from the chief of police. The board felt that strengthening of the ordinance might reduce the number of magazine salesmen canvassing the community.

The board asks citizens to call the police if solicitors call without this permit.

The board delayed a decision on a new test well site. The last test well proved to be unsatisfactory.

The Disabled American Veterans were given permission to store cots and a wheel chair in the community hall.

The board agreed on a new policy of property line determination during new home construction.

The front will be set back twenty-five feet from the line, the side and rear setback six feet. The setback will be three feet when the building is an unattached garage. These are minimum distances.

The board will investigate annexation of the Ray Garlin property fronting S. Nash Street.

Open House

An open house will be held at the public library Aug. 18 between 2 and 4 p.m., and 7 and 8 p.m.

In other action the board was notified of a request by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. for information on all power poles needing to be moved for 1965 street work. The Wisconsin Telephone Co. notified the city that payment for street improvements would be made in December.

Indigents' Attorney Mo-Ski-Tow Fees Get Approval

Outagamie Board Reluctantly Votes $27,000 for Legal Expenses

Outagamie County Board supervisors today reluctantly voted to pay legal expenses of indigents who appear in county and in Circuit Courts.

By a vote of 38-14, the board voted to appropriate a total of $27,000 to cover legal expenses incurred so far this year and anticipated for the rest of the year in Outagamie Court Branches 2 and 3 and in Circuit Court.

The action is a direct result of a State Supreme Court ruling which says all indigents have the right to defense counsel and a day in court.

'Pity Criminal'

Ponath said the court action "is a result of today's thinking that the 'poor criminal' must be pitied. No thought is being given at all these days to the person who is offended by this 'poor criminal.' If we want to change this we must change our thinking about the 'poor criminal.'"

"If a man pleads guilty," Ponath said, "why does the Supreme Court send this man back to us and say the criminal must have his day in court?"

County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler said because of the Supreme Court ruling, expenses have gone up for jury and sheriff's fees and all other areas of court operations.

Bar Agrees

"Each indigent has the right to a defense attorney," Woehler said, "and the Outagamie County Bar is going along with the State Bar Association's recommendation the defense attorney must collect $200 for each day in court and $20 an hour for research and preparation of a case."

Several supervisors objected to the legal rates and claimed they were "way out of line."

Supv. Arthur Hoolihan (Appleton, 11th) said, "Attorneys wouldn't charge that much if they were retained by a private citizen."

Ponath said the $200 rate, which was set by the state bar, has been approved by the State Supreme Court, but "the attorney must prove he earned it."

No Difference

Of the $27,000, Outagamie Court Branch 2 gets $15,000, Circuit Court gets $8,000 and Branch 3 gets $4,000.

After the resolution was passed, County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, said, "It wouldn't have made any difference if you had voted it down."

Man Fined for Topsy Driving

Brillion Driver Admits Charge in Outagamie Court

Myron J. Zachowski, 21, route 1, Brillion, was fined $175 and costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today where he pleaded guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

A passenger in his car, DuWayne J. Vollmer, 32, 1113 E. Lindbergh St., was fined $30 for being drunk.

Appleton police arrested the pair this morning when the car was seen being driven erratically on W. Eighth Street. Zachowski was examined by a doctor and tested .20 on a drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication. Both men were held in the city jail.

Plan to Start Work on New Dorm Next Month

$880,000 Women's Unit to House 200; Federal Loan to Finance Construction

WEST DE PERE—Construction of an $880,000 women's dormitory at St. Norbert College here will begin next month, the Rev. D. M. Burke, college president, said Monday.

His announcement coincided with a report from Sen. William Proxmire that the Community Facilities Administration of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had approved a college housing loan to finance construction of the building.

The unit will be the second women's dormitory on the campus. Designed to house 200 students, it will be located east of the first women's dormitory—opened last September—on Reid Street facing the Fox River. The Congregational Church manse on the site will be razed.

By September 1965, Father Burke said plans and specifications will be completed this month, and construction will begin in September. The building is scheduled to be ready by September, 1966.

The proposed dormitory will be six stories high, making it the tallest building on the campus. The first floor will be a lounge and contain quarters for housemothers. Each other floor will house 40 students in 20 rooms.

The construction project is one of a series on the campus. Beside the original women's dormitory, a men's dormitory was opened in December and a faculty housing unit was opened in May.

Father Burke said the next major construction would be the proposed $15 million Science Hall. About $600,000 has been raised for the unit. Father Burke said, but the balance must be obtained before work can begin.

perature is now about 52 degrees, and it will fall.

Our comrades who elected to go overland to the rendezvous are John Kuony and Robert Hruska, both of the Oshkosh Public Museum; Harry Brown of Big Bend, Wis.; Winston Elling of Chicago, and Dr. Robert Ritzenthaler, curator of anthropology for the Milwaukee Public Museum.

Yesterday evening after our work - a - day toil had been finished, Dr. Ritzenthaler and I slipped off to hike the trail to Chickenbone Lake, about two miles from our campsite, for enough fish to make dinner. We had a good hour, catching walleyes and northern pike sufficient for all.

Fish are Superb

Though Hitchcock and I have gravitated to the roles of "cookie" (regardless of the unpleasant remarks regarding our skills), this evening Dr. Ritzenthaler took over. His recipe for fish made them so palatable that it seems necessary to detail it; the fish were superb.

Once on an expedition into the Micronesian Islands, the Milwaukee anthropologist learned the method from the natives who, he said, had learned it from the Japanese.

At his direction, I cleaned and scaled the fish and cut them into about two-inch blocks. He dropped the squares into a batter which he made from ordinary pancake mix into which he mixed three eggs. Frying the fish in deep fat, he rendered them a golden, crisp delectable so good that his cooking has turned the rabble against Hitchcock and me. Dr. Ritzenthaler calls this method "Fish tempura." Good!

Best Dream

The best of every good scuba diver's dream came true yesterday for the best of our good divers, Owen Jones. Prowling the cove entrance in an area where we estimated might be the logical place for ancient accidents, he came up roaring with happiness.

Hitchcock, who was manning a boat topside for both anthropologist Hruska and for Jones, hurried to his side in the water and helped him aboard.

"Ya-hoo!" roared Jones, and he did a comic pancake flop back into the water. Helped aboard once again, he did another crazy dive in his exuberance.

Diver will know the cause of his glee: he had found a beautiful, old rusty anchor from a ship of long ago. Complete with flukes and cross-bar, it is indeed a handsome acquisition. As we viewed it though the water our guesses as to its weight run from 300 to 600 pounds, depending upon who is guessing.

Jones lashed a line to the cross-bar and four of us pulling with yeoman strength raised it partly to the bow and within our vision. Jones dove again and again, forcing air into a duffel bag and applying his Mae West to the big anchor to aid us in the lifting.

Must Wait

At last we had it high enough above the rocks to chug slowly across a bay and drop it within sight. There she lays until it is learned if the Park Service which operates this island will permit the Oshkosh museum to salvage it for a display. We will no know their judgement until we come out of the wilderness. Jones, his diver's dream fulfilled, was especially generous when evening came. He grandly offered to do everybody's dishes.

We permitted him to do this. It helped him to work off steam. It is almost dark now and we know that our comrades will not have tried to make the hike back through the darkness of the forest. But the wind has risen and we know with sadness we cannot possibly save them from a cold, uncomfortable night in the woods. We must wait until tomorrow for the wind to die down or for our friends to hike back to their little, untidy nest here at McCargo Cove.

Lawrence Says Court's Prayer Decisions May Be Stirring Justice Deplores Criticism Levelled At August Body

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Justice William J. Brennan Jr., of the Supreme Court has, unwittingly perhaps, stirred up more controversy on the so-called prayer decisions of the high court. Mr. Brennan, in an address in New York City to the conference of Chief Justices of the States, deplored the criticism which has been leveled at the court, and said:

"Criticism which is falsely premised, hostile, erosive and destructive hardly serves noble ends."

Mr. Brennan said that lawyers have a duty "to correct those whose attacks are founded upon exaggerated and distorted notions of what a court has done."

He added: "To take a specific and current example, lawyers as well as laymen are fully entitled to voice their disagreement with our court's recent decisions concerning prayer in the public schools. But when such criticism departs completely from what the court actually held and said in those cases, and accuses the court of having decreed the removal of all vestiges of religion from our public life—of chaplains from the armed services, opening prayers from legislative sessions, 'In God We Trust' from the coins—when the criticism is directed at this wholly distorted version of the court's decisions, I suggest that it is irresponsible criticism."

Not Clear But Justice Brennan has by no means clarified the situation. He has failed to point out that the members of the court, in themselves have been responsible for much of the criticism because of their ambiguous language, which now has resulted in a movement to secure a constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers in public schools. Nearly 150 proposed amendments have been drafted by lawyers and have been submitted to the House Committee on the Judiciary. It is the contradictory nature of the utterances of members of the Supreme Court itself which really puzzles the public. Justice Black, for example, who wrote the majority opinion in June 1962, in the case which prohibited New York State from directing public-school children to recite a particular prayer, did not deal with the question of other forms of religious exercises, voluntary or otherwise, but merely put in a footnote which said:

Historical Documents "There is of course nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially expoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a Supreme Being, or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life of belief in God. Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the State of New York has sponsored in this instance. But the American people were given an entirely different definition in a "concurring opinion" filed in the same case by a member of the majority. Justice Douglas, who wrote:

"It is customary in deciding a constitutional question to treat it in its narrowest form. Yet at times the setting of the question gives it a form and content which no abstract treatment could give. The point for decision is whether the government can constitutionally finance a religious exercise. Our system at the federal and state levels is presently honey combed with such financing. Nevertheless, I think it is an unconstitutional undertaking whatever form it takes."

Same Opinion Then in a footnote to this same opinion, Justice Douglas added a list of "Aids to religion" at all levels of government. This included chaplains in both Houses of Congress and in the armed services, the addition of the word "God" to the Pledge of Allegiance adopted by Congress, and use of the slogan "In God We Trust" by the Treasury Department.

This contradiction between two justices who voted for the majority decision has led to a fear that in later cases the Supreme Court might ban the use of schools. Nearly 150 proposed

Pioneer Hiawatha Trail Scenic Beauty to be Highlighted With Repair of State Highway 55

SHAWANO — Repairs and improvements on State Highway 55 in Menominee County will be undertaken with a view not only to preserve the scenic beauty but also to enhance it, Leroy Empey, district engineer, told the transportation committee of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission here Monday.

The committee, headed by

Lester S. Predeth, chairman of the Forest County Board and a member of the commission, held its first meeting to review regional highway needs and problems in connection with a comprehensive plan that is being prepared for the region. According to Empey, State Highway 55 is presently in poor condition and presents a number of safety hazards. He stated during the course of two years, 350,000 to 400,000 dollars would be spent on this highway — to include road base improvements, and resurfacing for needed safety features.

Scenic Beauty The scenic beauty can actually be enhanced, Empey said, by cutting away some of the thick undergrowth of brush which not only looks unsightly but obscures scenic vistas to the river. He said turnouts will be strategically located for convenience of traffic movements. Since State Highway 55 is now officially a part of the Hiawatha Pioneer Trail, considerable new traffic will be attracted to the area and as an added service feature, several wayside parks will be provided.

The Wolf River Transportation Committee gave its unanimous approval to the outline of plans submitted by Empey who indicated future traffic needs of the route would be provided for including accessibility to the Northern Counties of the region which the highway also serves.

Lester Predeth, who spoke for the commission's committee on transportation, said the commission was in complete accord with the Highway Commission's policy of preserving the scenic beauty. He added convenient, accessible transportation was important not only to the northern counties, which have exceptional recreational opportunities, but they are also a part of our broad public obligation to provide for the heavy increasing demand for outdoor recreation and access to the better recreation areas.

Highway 21 M. Edward Kelly, representing the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce, suggested time was not too early to plan for the modernization of State Highway 21 which is crowded, has a poor time-distance ratio and in many respects is hazardous. The committee asked the district engineer to keep it informed on its plan in respect to Highway 21 and to report at a future meeting.

Serving on the Wolf River Commission's transportation committee are: Lester S. Predeth and Alton B. Ison, Forest County; Henry A. Allhiser, Shawano County; Norman B. Braun, Langlade County; Harold Madison, Waushara County; and Earle Armstrong, Winnebago County.

Prosecutor of John Doe Cases Will Not Resign

MADISON (AP) — Special John Doe prosecutor Richard L. Gates, a Democratic appointee sharply criticized by Republican Atty. Gen. George Thompson, said Monday that he does not plan to resign. Gates said that Thompson's criticism of his conduct in the Milwaukee John Doe investigation was "a cowardly, deceitful and misleading act." Thompson said that 13 charges against suspended vice squad Capt. Harry Kuszewski were dropped on Gates' recommendation.

"He drove a harpoon into me and then he sneaked up north," Gates said. "He is a heel. But I am not going to quit these cases. These cases are too important."

Deputy Atty. Gen. Walter Cole said Monday that "the attorney general cannot have a prosecutor who changes his mind and comes up with new suggestions just before a case comes to trial."

Cole said that members of Thompson's staff would take over 11 John Doe cases now assigned to Gates. He said the cases probably would be taken over before they come to trial.

Highway Bids Opened Total $4,547,173

MADISON (AP) — The State Highway Commission opened bids today totaling $4,547,173 on 25 road construction projects, including 4.6 miles of Interstate in Milwaukee County and 2.5 miles of U.S. 12 freeway in Walworth County. The two major projects comprised $2.5 million of the bid total. The U.S. 12 work includes an interchange with Highway 50 east of Lake Geneva. Other projects include construction of 2.5 miles of Highway 33 in Juneau County, reconstruction of 4 miles of County Highway J in Waukesha County, and an additional roadway for U.S. 12 between Lake Delton and 190-91 in Sauk County.

Kennedy Forms Department

Urges Panel to Oversee Enforcement Of Laws Everywhere

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy called Monday for an intensive, unemotional effort to end injustice in the administration of criminal justice. He said the Justice department is starting the effort by establishing an office of criminal justice.

He urged formation of a blue-ribbon panel to scrutinize law enforcement procedures in the United States. And he summoned the nation's lawyers to participate wholeheartedly "to see to it that for all our citizens, criminal law means criminal justice."

In an address prepared for the Criminal Law Section of the American Bar Association, Kennedy said: "Crime in an industrial-urban society is a quite different 'Crime in an industrialized, urban society' is quite a different problem than it was in the simpler, rural society from which many of our legal rules developed. Yet too little has been done to collect and evaluate data about the present operation of our criminal laws."

Scratchers Wanted

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Wanted: a buffalo scratcher. In the old days the great herds of buffalo roaming North America would pick particular stones or boulders as back scratchers. Wear would make them smooth. Now the Saskatchewan Arts Board wants one for a Canadian memorial exhibit.

Citizens May Win Darboy Road Fight

Highway Commission Advises County Trunk KK be Improved

DARBOY — A three-year battle by citizens of this community to improve safety on Outagamie - Calumet County Trunk KK in front of Holy Angels School here has received the support of the State Highway Commission.

Highway commission engineers have told property owners and other interested individuals of recommendations resulting from a state study of proposed improvements of the highway. These included: —Installation of warning signs east and west of here, including flashing lights automatically set for before and after school and during lunch periods. —Widening of the highway shoulder. —Reconstruction of the highway with removal of concrete culvert abutments.

Done Next Spring Improvements of the highway, expected to be done next spring, will run from the highway's intersection with Manitowoc Road east for little more than one mile to Outagamie County Trunk N.

Plans for the proposed improvement call for widening of the right-of-way to 66 feet the one-mile length and of the road itself to 44 feet — 24 feet of blacktop with 10-foot shoulders on each side.

Some right-of-way apparently must be purchased. A survey of records dating back to 1867 reportedly will be necessary before it can be determined exactly what must be bought. Narrow culverts with bridge depressions at each end of the section to be improved will be removed and the depressions filled in.

It is expected after the improvements are completed, the slope of the road will be no more than 2 per cent per 100 feet.

Property owners along the one-mile section have been given a choice of curb and gutter or of ditch. They were given a month to make their choices. Estimated cost of the curb and gutter work was $2.50 per foot. The proposed project will qualify for federal aid totaling 50 per cent of the total cost. County governments involved will stand the cost of bridges and the Towns of Harrison and Buchanan to pay for manhole covers and storm sewers.

Fifty per cent of the curb and gutter also will qualify for federal aid; town governments will bill property owners for the balance.

Installation of warning signs and flashing lights were discussed at a recent meeting of property owners and town and county government officials, but neither the towns or counties apparently will agree to pay the cost. Parents here say the warning signals are necessary, especially for the coming school year.

A Sound Solution Available

The Welfare-Ordinance Committee has been handed a good opportunity to resolve Appleton's problem concerning full-time legal counsel.

Last week the City Council instructed the committee to prepare an ordinance establishing the position and salary of a part-time assistant to the present part-time city attorney. But there was general agreement among the aldermen that the real solution is to make it a full-time position. The only question was when.

Under the circumstances we recognize that part-time assistance is probably needed immediately because of the city's heavy legal load. But we have maintained that acting only on the part-time assistance question is avoiding the real problem.

Why doesn't the committee report out the ordinance which has been shelved for several months establishing the office of city attorney on a full-time, appointive basis, and at the same time recommend employment of part-time help until the full-time post can be created? If there is any doubt in the council's mind about how the public feels about a full-time city attorney, the question could be put to a referendum vote in November.

Guaranteeing Student Loans

Wisconsin's Senator Nelson has introduced a bill in Congress under which the federal government would guarantee low interest, privately financed loans to college students so they can continue their education.

Students could borrow up to $1,000 a year from private banks at 4½ per cent interest. The federal government would guarantee 90 per cent of the loan and pay the banks the difference between the 4½ per cent interest and the regular commercial rate. The students would have 11 years after graduation to repay the loan.

On the surface there would appear to be much merit in Senator Nelson's plan. He points out that "most aid now goes only to the exceptionally able or needy student," and that his bill "would bring an advanced education within the financial grasp of every American boy and girl who really desires it."

The loans would use private bank funds, not federal appropriations. Administration would be by the private banks, entailing a minimum of red tape. So far, so good.

But the Nelson plan would directly compete with a private, non-profit corporation which has been engaged in exactly the same program for the last three years.

A private corporation called United

Students Aid Funds has endorsed over $23 million worth of student loans in the last 26 months. Over 600 colleges and universities and 4,200 banks are participating in the program. Loans to individual students are permitted up to a maximum of $4,000, $1,000 per year for an undergraduate and $2,000 per year for graduate work.

Under the USAF program the loan must be repaid in four years. The organization says experience has shown a long repayment period conflicts with other obligations as the borrower gets married, has a family and takes on added responsibilities. There have been very few defaults on loans under the private plan.

The USAF program has worked like a charm. Right now it has about another $23 million in unused capacity to endorse additional student loans. But USAF officials do not believe they would be able to compete with loans backed by the government at reduced interest rates. Senator Nelson's program would probably put private enterprise in this field out of business.

It is another example of government encroachment on private enterprise. If there were a real need for government service in this field Senator Nelson could make a good case. But he has failed to mention that the private program is apparently already doing the job.

No Peace in the Congo

The international spotlight is on Viet Nam. But there is another war being waged in the Congo which could turn out to be even more serious than the one in that nation which was so highly publicized only a few months ago.

The third largest city in the Congo, Stanleyville, has fallen to the rebels although the Congolese army seems to be putting up a better struggle since Moise Tshombe took the office of Prime Minister. Reportedly units are being brought from Katanga and some American-made planes are being flown by Cuban exiles.

The United States continues to regard the struggle officially as primarily a tribal one and there is some backing for this point of view. The "People's Army" is made up of mainly Batetela, Bakuyu and Basonge tribesmen who don't like the authority in Leopoldville since other tribes are in positions of leadership. The Popular Republic of the Congo, as the rebellious group calls itself, has loose ties to the old National Liberation Committee, a left wing group. But it seems apparent that there is more direct Communist leadership involved in the rebellion than Washington wants to admit. Furthermore, it is Chinese Communist leadership.

Tung Chi-ying, a former Chinese attache in the Chinese Embassy in Burundi, fled to the American Embassy almost as soon as he had landed in the African nation. Now in the United States, he reports that the Congo is the first and foremost target of the Chinese Communists in a drive to control all of Africa. It had earlier been reported that there were a number of Chinese Communists in Burundi beyond what seemed normal for diplomatic relations and that they were having conferences with Congo dissidents.

The United States and the United Nations want no part of the Congo battle. The experiences over two years disillusioned both that not much sense could be made out of the various conflicts. And there is nothing that Communists like better than chaos and political vacuum.

But Tshombe may be able to muster support to beat the rebels at this point if he has weapons. It is highly likely, however, that the jungle warfare in the Congo may go on quite as long as the jungle warfare in Viet Nam.

Pakistan Has a New Friend

The Commerce Minister of Pakistan has just announced with great pride that his nation will be happy to accept a $60 million loan from Red China. Unlike the penny-pinching United States, China isn't even charging interest. But it depends upon what one regards as "interest."

The Commerce Minister, Wahid-uz-Zaman, has returned from a tour of Red China which is apparently thriving if it can so easily hand over the $60 million. China is "sincerely interested" in helping out the developing nations, reported Zaman. No repayment at all has to be made for ten years and then such products as jute and cotton will be accepted rather than only cash. And China might even extend the period to 30 or 40 years for repayment. As far as all the worry about communism, Zaman says that China has no territorial ambitions.

Of course to a Pakistani, the border raids on India probably can't be considered invasion since India is fair game to any friend of Pakistan. And China certainly has been active in helping the developing Congo—at least the rebelling provinces.

As long as Pakistan now has such a generous and rich friend as Red China, it shouldn't need American aid much longer. In fact it can spend that money it is getting from China for American equipment which may turn out to be more reliable than the Chinese and it will help our gold loss too. Besides there is nothing quite like loans and foreign aid to cement a friendship.

China is helping Pakistan save face since the United States sends military aid to India. If its assistance helps to wean Pakistan away from its commitments to the Central Treaty Organization and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, it will be in China's favor. But then the Peking Government will be able to increase its pressures upon Pakistan and the time for "interest" payments will come due

U. S. Officials Still Unclear On Reason for PT Boat Attacks

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

—Top Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress still are just as much in the dark as the public as to what was behind those provocative North Vietnamese attacks that caused the U.S. to blast their torpedo boat bases.

The congressional chiefs got no answer to this mystery at their meeting with the President when he told them of his decision to resort to armed retaliation.

The President and all of his attending State Department and Pentagon authorities frankly admitted they were baffled by the Reds' surprise PT boat attacks in the Gulf of Tonkin. It was asserted that nothing unusual had occurred to trigger them, and there had been no advance warning from Intelligence.

Flanking the President were Secretary Rusk, Secretary McNamara, General Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Central Intelligence Director John McCone, and McGeorge Bundy, special White House foreign relations adviser.

While acknowledging having no explanation for North Viet Nam's sudden aggression, they did present some theories—

—The PT boat assaults on the U.S. destroyers were designed to distract attention from a considerable build-up of Red Chinese combat planes on North Viet Nam bases in recent weeks. This menacing development has been under close scrutiny, and the Reds were aware of that and may have been seeking to divert it.

—The same may be true regarding a big build-up of anti-aircraft and other defenses at key points on the North Viet Nam and China coast of the Gulf of Tonkin, and the nearby Chinese island of Hainan. The latter particularly has been under constant U.S. surveillance.

—A large movement of arms and men from Red China across the Gulf of Tonkin may have been contemplated, and the PT boat attacks were made in the hope of creating a diplomatic furore that would induce the U.S. to withdraw its naval patrols from this strategic area. This Communist expectation may have been based on the turbulent political and racial situation in the U.S.

Most of the theorizing was expounded by CIA Director

McCone, although the President did some himself.

McCone's somewhat lame admission that his giant intelligence agency had no concrete information on the cause or objective of this surprise Red aggression drew disapproving stares from the congressional leaders. Later, among themselves, there was sharp criticism of McCone and the CIA.

HOW THEY REACTED -- With one exception, all the congressional chiefs fully approved the President's decision to immediately counterattack North Viet Nam's torpedo boat bases.

The exception was Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The Montanan, who has long advocated some form of neutralization of South Viet Nam, did not outrightly oppose the President's avowed intention. But Mansfield made it clear he didn't like it, and favored instead recourse to the United Nations or some other diplomatic channel.

That was flatly rejected by Senators Richard Russell, D-Ga., head of the Armed Services Committee and leader of the Southern bloc, Republican Floor Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., and Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert Humphrey, Minn., who directed the administration's successful fight to put the new civil rights law through the upper chamber.

They heartily endorsed the President's determination to immediately retaliate with armed force.

"It's fatal to trifle with aggression," said Humphrey. "Failure to strike back hard and fast is certain to lead to more aggression. We cannot afford for one moment to let the Communists get away with these attacks. They must be dealt with immediately and in kind."

"Those are exactly my sentiments," declared Dirksen. "That is the only sound and effective course you can pursue, Mr. President, and I'll back it to the hilt."

Throughout the conference, the President was serious but gave no sign of being uneasy. He told the congressional leaders that the air attacks against the Red PT boat bases were timed for 8:00 p.m. EDT.

That's what happened—which explains why the President did not make his nationwide radio-TV broadcast until close to midnight. He did not want to start until the air strikes actually were underway.

When he got that word, he immediately went to the microphones.

BATTLE FLASHES—Those attacking North Viet Nam PT boats were Soviet-made. They are of the so-called Komar class, have a speed of some 40 knots, and are equipped with both torpedoes and missiles. Apparently, the boats that attacked the U.S. destroyers did not have missiles as they used only torpedoes. Russia has equipped Cuba with a sizable fleet of Komars, most of them armed with both torpedoes and missiles. The U.S. has nuclear submarines in the Pacific as part of the Seventh Fleet. Some of the nuclear-powered subs are killer subs; that is, subs designed specifically for hunting and destroying other subs.

The Seventh Fleet has the capability of destroying virtually all major North Viet Nam and Red Chinese military targets in a few days. The Fleet can do that as it is now comprised: it does not need reinforcements. In the event armed retaliation against Red China becomes necessary, the first targets will be its nuclear plants and laboratories. Their location is precisely known and they are pinpointed for massive air and missile attacks. Other major targets are the Communists' highly vulnerable rail system and chief industrial centers which mostly are located near the coast. Significantly, a number of B-47 strategic bombers have arrived at Okinawa, within easy striking distance of principal Chinese targets. Both Red China and Russia have submarine bases in Indonesia. These bases, maintained and operated separately, were granted by President Sukarno in his policy of playing all sides to the middle—including the U.S., from whom he has received tens of millions of dollars in foreign aid.

Leadership of State Legislature Is Likely To Remain the Same

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Barring a partisan realignment that would transform the party control of the legislature from Republican to Democratic, the outlook is for a 1965 legislative session directed by the men who have been in power in both houses during the last several terms.

Wyngaard

Casual perusal of the list of legislative candidate filings as made available from the secretary of state's office shows that most of the men in leadership roles in both houses lately are candidates for reelection (in the Senate some of them are incumbents in midterm) and most of them of both parties represent constituencies in which their security is fairly evident.

Thus it appears likely that such men as Assemblyman Huber of West Allis, Molinaro of Kenosha and Nikolay of Clark County, the top men of the Assembly Democratic minority, will be returned, as will Sen. Risser, of Madison, on the Senate Democratic leadership roster. Sen. Richard Zaborski, the chosen floor leader of the Senate Democratic minority, is a holdover. GOP OUTLOOK

Recognizing the political behavior of their districts in recent times, Speaker Robert Haase of Marinette and Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi, the Republican majority leader in the lower house, must be counted as favorites for reelection.

There is involved in Alfonsi's re-election drive a footnote interesting to politicians elsewhere. His prospective November Democratic opponent, S. J. Gwidt of Rhinelander, is attempting the difficult feat of persuading the electorate that he has changed his political views competely. A former Republican, he is now a Democrat.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, Wauwatosa, the chief finance spokesman of the Republicans in the lower house in the 1963 legislature, finds himself with three Republican rivals for renomination, a fact which undoubtedly results from his indecision about running again. Pommerening gave the impression of retiring when he ran for mayor of his city. But he was defeated in that goal and changed his mind about the desirability of a legislative seat.

Sen. Jerris Leonard of Bay-side is unopposed for renomination in a Republican Milwaukee north shore district, but his associate in the Republican leadership cadre of the Senate, Floorleader Robert P. Knowles of New Richmond, may be facing a difficult re-election effort. The Knowles district was changed in the Supreme Court reapportionment decree in such a way as to favor the Democrats visibly. His prospective Democratic opponent is Wallace Mehlberg of Pierce County. Mehlberg is widely known among farmers as a former member of the state board which administers federal agricultural assistance programs.

NOTES...

The candidate list offers sidelights of more than district interest about the legislative outlook.

In Dane County and environs voters may have recognition difficulties in November. Milford Thompson, Republican, will challenge Carl Thompson, incumbent Democrat, for state senator. Veteran, cagey Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto is probably facing the fight of his life for renomination in a contest with a widely known area businessman, Emery Anson of Gillett. Charles Zepp, long-time Republican organization leader in the northwestern Wisconsin rural district, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman in Buffalo, Pepin and Pierce Counties. Martin J. Schreiber of Milwaukee, youngest man in the State Senate, will be re-elected by default. No Republican candidate has filed in his district.

Bernard Gehrman of Ashland, son of the widely known former congressman of upper Wisconsin, is running for assemblyman in Ashland, Bayfield and Iron counties against Robert F. Barabe, Democratic incumbent. Edward Keip, for many years a state leader in conservation organization, is a Republican candidate for assemblyman in Two Rivers against Everett Bolle, Democratic incumbent.

Education of Children Really Begins at Birth

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

If a muscle isn't used, it atrophies. If a child were kept in bed for the first six years of his life, he would most likely be a paralytic for the rest of his life.

Much the same is true for the brain. I am convinced that by the time formal education begins, at the age of 6, prior experience has already determined how much and how well the child will learn. I am equally convinced that six years of age is three years too late.

If the child is not intellectually and imaginatively stimulated from the time he is able to walk and talk, then the "cultural imprint" will most likely be lacking for a lifetime, except for the very brightest. We cannot expect school to provide what the home environment has failed to give — this is the great, and fatal, fallacy of our whole educational system.

No doubt, there are inherent differences in intelligence and ability. But I don't think these differences are as great as they seem to be. We know, for instance, that the IQ score is not an absolute — it rises if the child is transferred to a more stimulating environment. Much of what we consider "innate" intelligence is culturally conditioned.

But, as the child gets older, the "imprint" becomes harder to change. In adults it is almost impossible. On the physiological level alone, the brain "hardens" in its ways, the neurological circuits become set, and no new paths can be created.

Experiments with young cats and baby monkeys, for example, have shown that impairment of the motor cortex can be compensated for; but in mature cats and adult monkeys, the damage is irreversible. Beyond a certain age, apparently, the brain organism becomes rigid.

Children have a much faster learning capacity than we realize. They have more creative, imaginative, and even conceptual powers than we give them credit for. If these powers are not utilized — and, worse, if they are inhibited — then the child may lose most of his incentive for curiosity, exploration, and problem-solving.

By the time he enters first grade, if these tendencies have been curbed or ignored, the learning process becomes extremely difficult; for then it is an emotional as well as an intellectual problem. Some "circuits" have already been closed off, and the child will have to work twice as hard to accomplish half as much. That the "education" of children begins nearly at birth is a lesson we must still learn, if we want to produce humans who can keep pace with our accelerated demands.

Disabled Veterans Fund Raiser Charged With Bilking Charity

CHICAGO (AP) — A fund-raiser accused of bilking the Disabled American Veterans of $2 million will be arraigned Aug. 27 on charges of violating state regulations.

Affairs of Harold Sager, 47, who was arrested Monday on orders of Atty. Gen. William G. Clark were tied up by an injunction of the Circuit Court, issued by Judge Walter Butler in connection with an accounting suit by the DAV.

Used Alias

Sager used the name and title: Col. Harold S. McClintock in a deal with the veterans organization which provided that he could retain 25 per cent of money raised as commission and 24 per cent as expenses. He was free on $2,000 bond pending trial on charges of failure to register with the state under the Charitable Solicitations Act, and failure to file a copy of his contract with the state.

Clark said he had given details of a six-months investigation of Sager's fund-raising to the U.S. attorney because it involved property in other states.

The attorney general said that Sager remitted $250,000 to the DAV after obtaining $851,000 for property donated to the organization by the Borden Co.

Two Plants

Borden gave the veterans group two disused soybean processing plants, one in Kankakee, Ill., and the other in Waterloo, Iowa.

The DAV suit asserted that the Kankakee plant was sold to the J. R. Short Milling Co., Chicago, for $651,000, and the machinery at Kankakee brought $50,000. It also said Sager obtained $150,000 for the Waterloo plant.

The accounting suit was filed by Douglas H. McGarrity of Detroit, national commander of the DAV.

Russia Is Sitting on Sidelines

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's preoccupation with its own affairs has barely been reflected by the far-off echoes of shots and war cries in Asia and the Mediterranean.

For the first time in the history of the cold war, the Kremlin virtually has taken a seat on the sidelines for the doubleheader crisis in Viet Nam and Cyprus.

In sharp contrast with its tactics in past international flare-ups, the Soviet Union has evinced only passing interest in the present conflicts.

The American air attack on Communist Vietnamese naval bases last week drew a mild statement of rebuke.

While giving token support to the North Viet Nam and Communist Chinese cause in Asia, Premier Khrushchev withheld any threats to involve the Soviet Union until the dust had settled, and the danger of further explosions had passed.

With a similar air for near detachment, the Soviet premier dispatched telegrams to Greek and Turkish leaders and to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

An AP News Analysis

University of Wisconsin Law School students after World War II.

Reynolds had said earlier he wanted to pick a judge who would "survive" expected competition in the election for a full term that will be held next April. The appointment is to succeed the late W. H. Dieterich of Hartford who died recently and whose term had several years to run. But, under law, the appointee must run in the first year in which another incumbent justice is not running, which works out to spring of 1965.

Among those expected to run are Howard Boyle of Beaver Dam, who made a strong campaign last spring against Justice Horace Wilkie, who had served a similarly short appointive term after his selection by former Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Heffernan will be eligible for a salary of $24,000 a year under the law, a considerable boost over his pay as U. S. prosecutor.

While his credentials as a Democrat are in good order, Heffernan has operated outside the usually controversial sphere of party politics in Wisconsin. Earlier in his life he had been an employee of a Republican state administration, as an agent of one of the divisions of the executive department when Gov. Oscar Rennebohm served.

Political Interest

The court vacancy drew more than usual political interest not because of the number of prominent Democrats who were candidates, but because of an awareness that the vacancy paved the way for nominal Democratic control of the court for the first time within memory.

Sitting judges on the tribunal of seven members who have Democratic backgrounds are Myron Gordon of Milwaukee, Thomas E. Fairchild of Milwaukee, a former Democratic attorney general and one-time Democratic nominee for U. S. senator, and Wilkie, who was a Democratic member of the State Senate when he was chosen by Nelson for the bench.

The three other justices have Republican backgrounds, including Bruce Beilfuss of Neillsville, Harold Hallows of Milwaukee, and George Currie of Sheboygan, who became chief justice of the court at the turn of the year.

The presumption at the capitol is that Heffernan was the governor's second choice for the place. It had been widely reported, without contrary comment from the executive office, that Reynolds had originally offered the seat to James Doyle of Madison, a long-time party leader who was involved as an aspirant in the bitter fight a year ago for the nomination of a U. S. district judge in Madison.

That selection went to David Rabinovitz of Sheboygan on an interim basis, although his nomination has not yet been confirmed by the U. S. Senate.

"Stature, Experience"

"Wisconsin is fortunate in having Nat Heffernan on the court," Reynolds said in a statement. "He is a man of stature and experience. He knows the law from the eyes of an honor student, a practicing

Greece took the view that Monday's attack by two Turkish F104 jets on the town of Polis may have been the result of a delay in transmission of orders to some Turkish air bases. The Greek Cypriots claimed 10 persons were wounded when the jets strafed the village square.

A Turkish government spokesman denied the planes had opened fire. He said they flew over Cyprus because the Greek Cypriots broke an unofficial truce by resuming their attack on Kokkina, about 10 miles east of Polis. He also said Greek planes bombed the village.

Greece denied it.

The U.N. Security Council adopted a U.S.-British resolution calling for a halt in hostilities on Sunday, with only the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia abstaining. The fighting on Cyprus broke off temporarily shortly thereafter.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu sent a message to U Thant saying Turkey would obey the council's appeal, but he urged a complete disarmament on Cyprus. In a similar note to NATO, Inonu said Turkish planes will not shoot or bomb the island but will continue reconnaissance flights "until the United Nations forces can effectively enforce the cease-fire and the withdrawal to pre-Aug. 5 positions."

In Nicosia, Makarios said his government would fully respect the Security Council's call for a cease-fire. He said the Greek Cypriots had stopped fighting on Saturday.

Newsman who visited the string of villages attacked by the Turkish jets reported widespread destruction. Many townspeople remained in nearby wooded hills, afraid the planes would return. A few farm animals roamed the quiet streets.

Turkish reconnaissance jets flew over the island for the fifth day in a row. The government said no shots were fired.

Western diplomatic sources said both Turkish and Greek Cypriot forces appeared willing to maintain a U.N.-sponsored cease-fire on the island, but one remarked the situation "is hanging by a thread."

Premier Ismet Inonu sent a protest to the Greek government in Athens claiming Greek jets attacked the Turkish Cypriot village of Kokkina on Sunday, before the cease-fire. Killing three persons and wounding eight, Greece has said the planes did not attack, that they just made a flight to Cyprus and returned the next day.

Turkey's Warning

Government sources said Inonu's message, without going into the Greek explanation, declared that any further Greek raids against Turkish Cypriot positions on the island would be regarded as an attack against Turkey itself.

A government spokesman said Greek Cypriot troops fired a few shots in the Kokkina region early today. But the outburst was brief and Turkey did not appear to consider it a violation of the cease-fire.

No Cease-Fire Conditions Set, Thant Asserts

Pledges U.N. to Exert All Efforts For Peace on Cyprus

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said Monday night Turkey and Cyprus have accepted the U.N. appeal for a cease-fire without conditions. He pledged that the United Nations would exert every effort to keep the peace on Cyprus.

Thant's statements were made in a report to U.N. Security Council members, circulated shortly after the Turkish and Cyprus governments announced they would enforce a cease-fire. The Turks declared, however, that they would continue reconnaissance flights over Cyprus until Greek Cypriot forces withdrew to positions they occupied Aug. 5.

May End Fighting

In his statement, Thant said: "It is gratifying and encouraging that both governments have responded positively without conditions."

"These decisions of the two governments now afford an opportunity for definitely ending the fighting and relaxing tension in Cyprus."

"It will be my purpose to take fullest possible advantage of this opportunity by exerting every effort toward constructive peace keeping arrangements in all areas of the island." He gave no indication of any new measures the United Nations might be planning.

Couldn't Prevent Attack

The U.N. force on Cyprus numbers almost 6,000 officers and men, but it couldn't prevent Greek Cypriots from attacking Turkish Cypriot villages on the northwest coast last week. Turkey says these attacks prompted its air raids.

The U.N. role on the island has been confined largely to patrols between the hostile Turkish and Greek communities.

Thant did say he has asked the special U.N. representative on Cyprus, former Ecuadorian President Galo Plaza Lasso to fly back to Cyprus at once. Galo Plaza has been in Ecuador.

The Cyprus government has asked for another Security Council meeting, but there was no immediate indication when this might take place.

1963 Income $65,000

Goldwater Wealth an Estimated $1.7 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Time magazine estimates the wealth of Sen. Barry Goldwater and his wife at about $1.7 million.

And their income, the magazine said, amounted to $65,000 last year — $37,600 from stocks and bonds, $22,500 from Goldwater's Senate salary and $5,000 from his honorary post as chairman of the Goldwater Division of Associated Dry Goods Corp.

Times' appraisal of the Republican presidential nominee's financial condition listed these stocks held by Goldwater: 7,555 shares of Associated Dry Goods, worth $445,700; 973 shares of Arizona Bancorporation, worth $20,400; and 90 shares of Borg-Warner Corp., worth $4,320.

Stock Holdings

The magazine reported Mrs. Goldwater's stock holdings as: 1,690 shares of American Electric Power Co., worth $77,740; 349 shares of Arizona Bancorporation, worth $7,330; 5,278 shares of Associated Dry Goods, worth $311,400; 2,491 shares of Borg-Warner, worth $119,568; 200 shares of Continental Casualty Co., worth $15,600; 348 of General Electric Co., worth $29,000; 232 of General Motors Corp., worth $75,000; 417 of Hooker Chemical Corp., worth $18,765; 87 of International Business Machines, worth $49,225; 550 of Maryland Casualty Co., worth $33,550; 50 of Honeywell, Inc., worth $44,450; 700 of Standard Oil of New Jersey, worth $61,600; 400 of Texas Utilities Co., worth $25,600; 186 of Universal Match Corp., worth $2,418; and 1576 of Valley Bank of Arizona, worth $113,478.

Municipal Bonds

Time said Mrs. Goldwater also owns $71,000 worth of municipal bonds and the family's $200,000 home in Paradise Valley, near Phoenix, on which there is a $3,400 mortgage balance.

The magazine said the source of the family wealth was the Goldwater family retail stores, which were sold in 1962 to Associated Dry Goods; and Mrs. Goldwater's late father, who was a vice president and director of the Borg-Warner Corp. in Chicago.

Time also said that the senator's mother, now 89, is "worth at least $2 million" and that Mrs. Barry Goldwater's mother left a $2.5-million trust fund for immediate indication when this seven grandchildren, including the senator's four children.

CAN MOST PEOPLE 'SIZE UP' OTHERS RELIABLY?
YES ☐ NO ☐

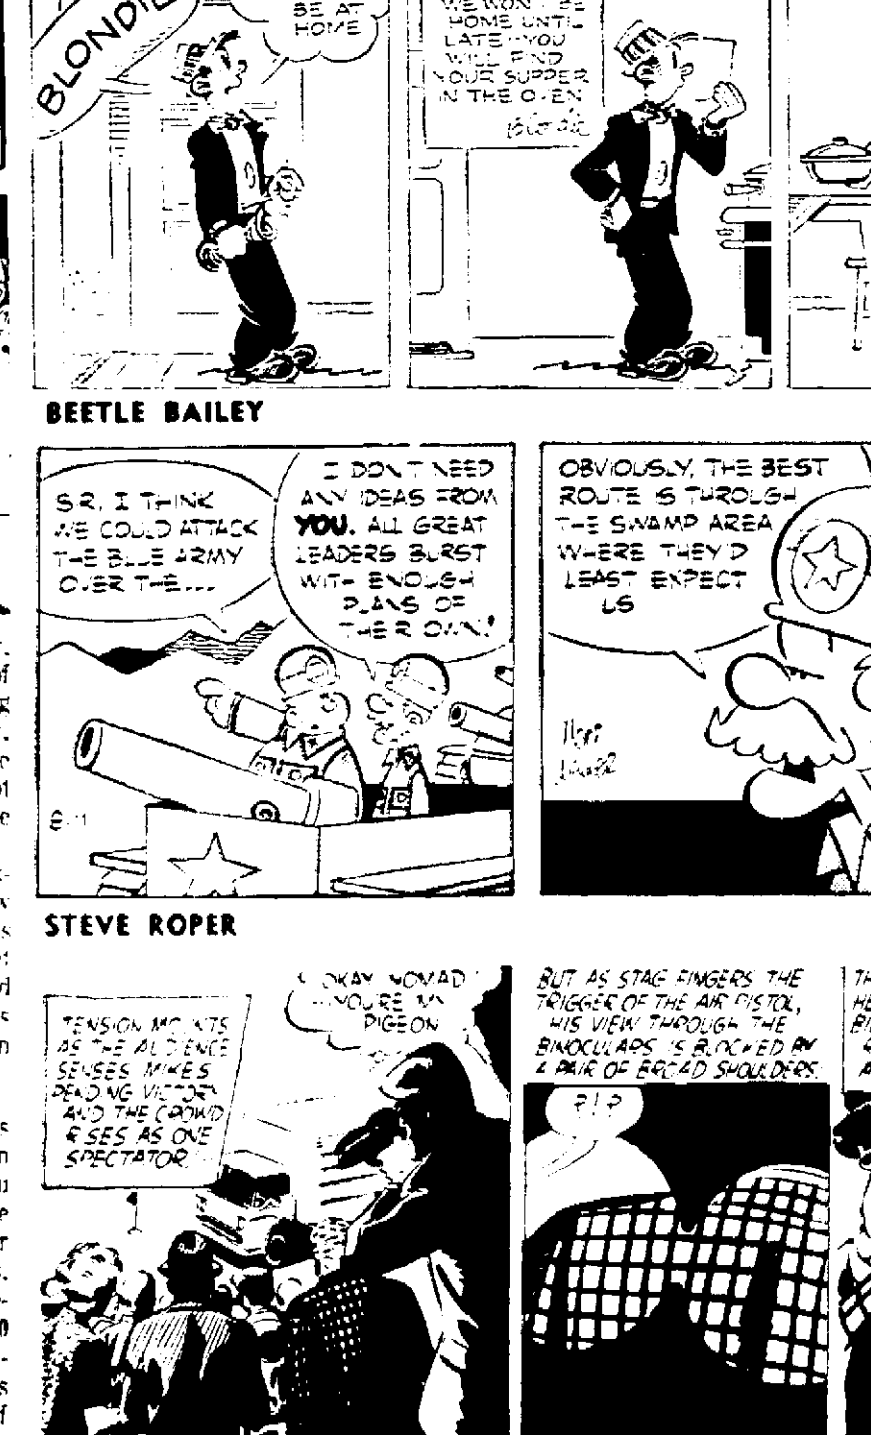

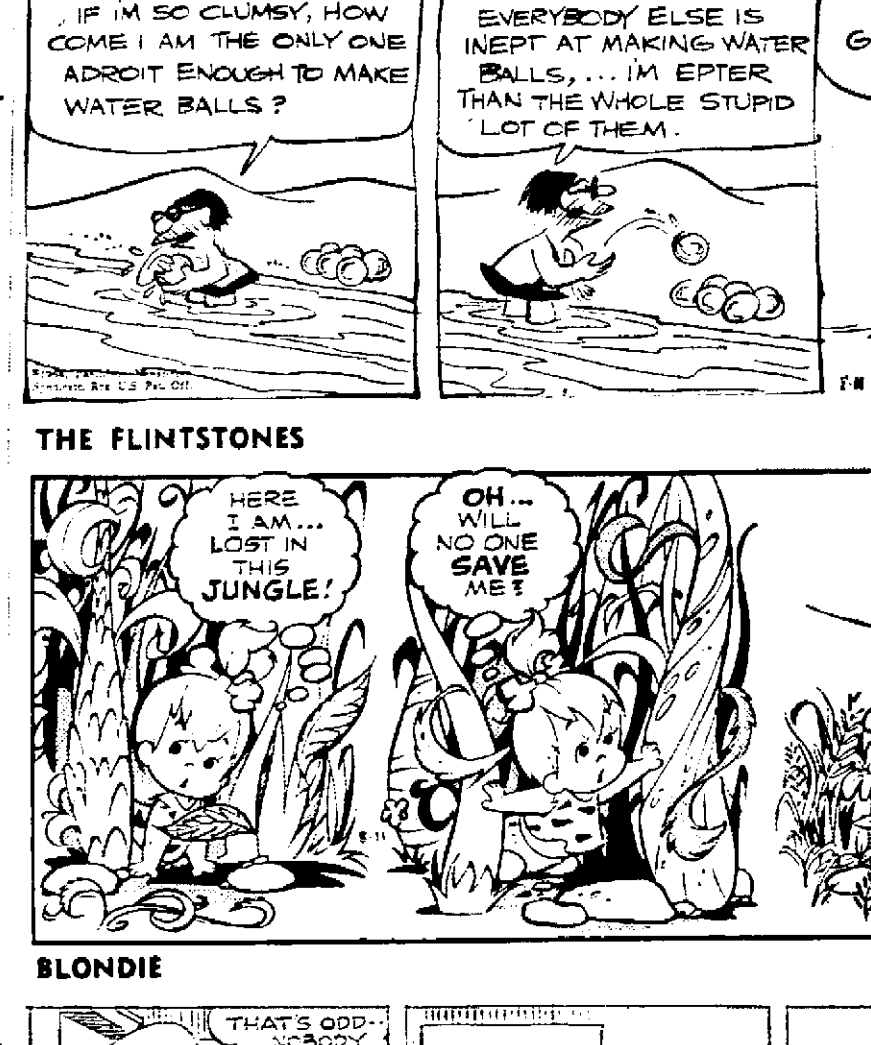

No, say some authorities. There seems to be no general-ized ability to judge others. Supposed experts disagree sharply among themselves, and even the greatest make had mistakes in judgment. Lincoln, for example, was supposedly a fairly good judge of men. Yet it took him more than two years of trial and error blundering before he found the right man to lead the Union armies. Certainly judging others is very difficult and few men are very successful at it.

Peninsula Festival to Feature Famed Pianist

John Browning and Soni Ventorum
Guests at Fourth Concert of Series

BY JACK RUDOLPH
Peninsula Music Festival
FISH CREEK—Carefully measure one old friend to a piano, add five parts wind and three of new music. Stir briskly with Dr. Thor Johnson's baton, sprinkle the mixture liberally over 40 assembled musicians, and you have the ingredients for Wednesday night's Peninsula Music Festival concert at Gibraltar High School.

The old friend is pianist John Browning, back for his third visit to the Festival, while the wind portion is the Soni Ventorum Woodwind Quintet, making its Fish Creek debut. In collaboration with the Festival Orchestra they will perform three compositions never heard here before.

As the evening's guest artist Browning will play Beethoven's great Piano Concerto No. five in E-Flat and the Soni Ventorum will square off against the orchestra in the 'Konzertstück' for Woodwind Quintet and Orchestra' by Boris Blacher. Igor Stravinsky's Concerto in D will round out the program.

None of this music has been previously offered at the Festival, in addition to which the Blacher work will be making its United States premiere. Inclusion of the latter brings the number of American first performances at the 12-year-old event to 25.

Wednesday's concert, the first mid-week event of the Festival, begins at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at Newman's Appleton, and the high school box office before concert time.

The Soni Ventorum, consisting of Felix Skowronek, flute; James Caldwell, oboe; William McColl, clarinet; Arthur Grossman, bassoon, and Robert Bonnevill, French horn, will make its Festival bow with a new piece by the modern German composer Boris Blacher. Written on commission for a West German radio orchestra, it received its world premiere only last October.

Blacher, now professor of music at the Berlin Arts Academy, was born in China in 1903 but has lived in Germany since 1922. His music barely escaped being suppressed entirely during the Nazi regime, but he has emerged since the war as one of Germany's most influential composers.

An extremely original composer, Blacher is particularly good at handling woodwinds and percussion. The 'Concert Piece' is typical, consisting of three bridge movements joined by quiet passages. The work is played without pause but the various portions are easily distinguished.

Stravinsky's Concerto in D, written in 1946, is often called the 'Basel Concerto' because it was commissioned and premiered by the Basel Chamber Orchestra at its 25th anniversary concert in January, 1947. It was later made into a ballet 'The Cage,' produced by Jerome Robbins with the New York City Ballet in 1951.

Edie Adams Will Marry Marty Mills

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next Sunday Edie Adams will marry Marty Mills of the music publishing family, thus ending a chapter of courage and determination.

For a year and a half, the talented actress has followed a hard and lonely course in untangling the financial mess left after her husband, comedian Ernie Kovacs, was killed in an auto crash.

Her industry succeeded in extricating the estate from its burden of debts and unpaid taxes. "But it nearly killed me," she admitted. "After it was all over, I realized if I had to do just one thing more, I would have collapsed. I didn't have the energy."

Edie is back at her Coldwater Canyon home, struggling to get it ready for the wedding. She and Mills will be married before their families only, with a big reception following at the Beverly Hilton. The pair will honeymoon in Hawaii. Mills, 37, and a bachelor, is a New Yorker who will now help conduct the family business in Hollywood.

Actress 'Tippi' Hedren spent four pre-production weeks taking daily riding lessons in preparation for her title role in Alfred Hitchcock's psychological suspense drama, 'Marnie.' She became such an accomplished horseman, she plans to acquire a steed of her own. 'Tippi' is seen with Forio, the animal she rides in the film. Marnie starts Wednesday at the Viking.

Jackie Forster Wins National Hobby Prize

A little bit of magic came into Jackie Forster's life as she became one of the five national winners in the Young Hobby Club contest recently. Jackie's prize is the S. S. Adams Co. Hocus Pocus Magic set consisting of the apparatus and instructions for 20 magic tricks. Jackie is the 11-year-old Freddie-faced Jackie has won many local prizes, but this is her first national prize. To win she cut out a baseball player puzzle, reassembled it, placed it on a pitcher's mound and drew in the background of a baseball stadium. Mrs. Forster explains that Jackie got her inspiration for the drawing from family outings to the Milwaukee Braves' games.

Jackie, who will enter sixth grade at Jackson School this fall, is a very busy little girl. Her summer is filled with tennis, art and swimming lessons, church and Girl Scout camp. Jackie has been an active Girl Scout since third grade.

Several Hobbies
Entering the contest sponsored by columnist Cappy Dick is just one of Jackie's hobbies. She also is a collector of stamps and china cats.

Jackie's entry had to win a local prize to be considered for a national prize. Other area winners of local prizes are Mary Starck, 11, 1530 W. Prospect Ave.; Sally Jensen, 11, Little Chute, and Margaret Treimann, seven, Neenah. The local winners were awarded a packet of 100 foreign stamps which Jackie Marilyn, nine, and Susan, eight, also received.

Match Causes More Damage Than Volcano

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Matches start more fires, kill more people, cause more property damage than volcanoes.

Mother earth lives in eternal restlessness. She is like a fat lady with a tight girdle. Every day there is an average of 85 earthquakes, most of them harmless.

We seek to land on the moon before we have freed our own globe from the tyranny of ignorance and the fringe benefits of science. For example, despite the local popularity of the electric light bulb, most of the world's population is illuminated by the candle and the fire place.

Choice Increased
On the other hand, our choice of change at home is increased year by year. The best supermarkets now carry at least 6,000 items.

One of the biggest but least-known causes of private melancholy is that people wear shoes too tight for their feet. You can't feel free in the head if your tootsies hurt. Walking with the Army Infantry taught me that most of my life I had been wearing a shoe half a size too short — 9½ instead of 10.

This reminds me of the new joke about why the fellow wore pointed shoes. "They are a great help in stamping out cockroaches in corners," he explained learnedly.

White Shoes
It also reminds me of an old joke — I believe it belongs to George Ade — about the shrewd

Telephone Hour Salutes Festivals

BY TV SCOUT

8-9 (Channel 5) — The Bell Telephone Hour continues its breezy summer theater round of activities with hostess Florence Henderson. Tonight, she salutes the warm weather festivals with the Bernie Leighton Trio representing the jazz festivals; youthful pianist Gita Karaski, for the classic music buffs, and dancers Kelly Brown and Hanne-Marie Reiner for ballet lovers. Florence joins actor Robert Burr in a scene from "Hamlet" and songs from "Kiss Me Kate." (Color)

6-7:30 (Channel 11) — Combat has an exciting rescue story interspersed with philosophical questions about men's right to be the instrument of another's death. Repeat.

6-7:30 (Channel 5) — Mike Walker, the second acting son of the late Robert Walker and Jennifer Jones, is the guest star on Mr. Novak. He is very good as an insolent trouble-maker who so riles the school's vice principal that she slaps him. An absorbing hour, with realistic character reactions. Repeat.

7-8 (Channel 2) — Lowell Thomas takes to the high seas of the Indian Ocean on High Adventure. His mission: to trace the old trade lanes of vessels, which carried precious prizes of the Persian Gulf to spice-rich Zanzibar 4,000 years ago. Repeat.

7-8 (Channel 5) — Jessica Tandy is busy on the telephone, trying to ward off her husband's execution after she gets a letter proving (to herself anyway) that he is innocent on Moment of Fear. Repeat.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Louis Jourdan brings Gallic charm to The Greatest Show on Earth as a once-exalted European circus director who has been humbled to performance for Jack Palance. (Color) Repeat.

8-9 (Channel 5) — "All the Blood of yesterday," on The Richard Boone Show, is an exciting, although occasionally confusing cloak-and-dagger tale. Warren Stevens, visiting Paris, is approached by his old Resistance fighter buddies to help get one of the old gang out of Spain where he has been arrested. Repeat.

9-10 (Channel 11) — The Fugitive begins a two-partter which sends David Janssen and Eileen Heckart, as a nun whose faith — at first — is child-like, on a trip across the Sierras in a flivver that is looking for a place to die. And hot on Janssen's heels is a Nevada sheriff who knows Janssen's real identity. Repeat.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Just Polly and Me, a musical comedy written some seasons back for the talents of Phil Silvers and Polly Bergen, has the two busily day dreaming as to how they would do a television show if they had their way. A slight hour of merriment. Repeat.

Facial Tissues
Quickies: Americans will sneeze into an estimated 100 billion facial tissues during the current fall fever season. Half the money that husbands spend to woo their wives with flowers is expended on roses. ... And Then, One Wautoma Trucker Gets Thing Just Led To Another ...

NAPOLEON, Mich. (AP) — Gary Ellis, 19, says it just wasn't his day.

He was driving his sister's 1956 model car when the auto frame broke. He tied it together with a rope.

Then the rear end of the car shifted sideways and the drive shaft fell out of its housing, but the roped-together frame held.

A neighbor in another car, began pulling Gary's auto. Gary's right rear tire went flat. The spare was flat, too. As the trip continued, the flat tire came off the wheel.

The wheel threw sparks from the highway that set five grass fires. The Napoleon Fire Department extinguished the blazes.

Gary, who finally made it home, said "I think we'll keep the car and just stare at it — like a relic."
